Dr. Patricia Wertheimer Begins Her Career as New PHS Principal

Trish Wertheimer moved into the principal's chair at Princeton High School at the start of the day, Thursday, July 1.

"Maybe it sounds like a cliché, but I'm delighted — looking forward tremendously to being at Princeton High," she said, after 90 minutes on the job.

Dr. Patricia Wertheimer is a slim, trim blonde with very cool hazel eyes and a very warm handshake. She gives the impression of being absolutely unflappable.

Her name is pronounced soft — Worth-eimer — and she likes to be called "Trish" or "Trisha" and not "Pat."

She worked at her administrator's job in John Adams High School, Portland, Oregon, until the third week in June, came across the continent to New Jersey, found a house to buy in Princeton, started her new job July 1 and hopes to move into her new home by the end of July.

Roger Wertheimer, the new principal's husband, will commute to New York, where he will be a professor of philosophy at City University of New York. Christopher Olson, the Wertheimer's 11-year-old son, now in Mexico with his grandparents, will enter the sixth grade at the Middle School this fall.

Dr. Wertheimer is aware that Princeton is not a tranquil community where its schools are concerned.

"Certainly there are problems here," she said, "but I feel a tremendous amount of commitment; you don't find the kind of cynicism you can find in a big-city school. I feel strongly that people want to work on these problems."

The new principal has talked with about two dozen people on the high school staff. Those she talked to, she said, felt that one of the chief problems at Princeton High School is confused organization within the school.

"They told me it was hard to know whom to go to, on a particular job or problem," she continued. "They felt that a clarification of responsibility and roles would be in order, and I would like to help with that problem."

Another problem mentioned by staff, she said, was student behavior and student absenteeism, "although this didn't come to be a paramount problem with those who mentioned it," she observed.

After only 24 hours on the job, Dr. Wertheimer met a few Princeton High students. She was invited to sit in on a planning session for the new Learning Community that will start at the high school this fall.

Her former school, John Adams High, a new school which she helped to plan, was an innovative school and Dr. Wertheimer said that she was eager to see how the PHS Learning Community would develop.

Incidentally, John Adams High is the same size as Princeton High: 1,700 students.

Turning to the Princeton community and its concern about schools, Dr. Wertheimer said,

"Any administrator or educational leader must make himself — or herself! — aware of the concerns of the staff and of the community. You can't carry on in a vacuum and expect to accomplish anything."

PCII BEGINS TO MOVE

To appear before the Princeton Community Housing, Inc. will appear before the Township Zoning Board next Thursday, July 13, at 8 p.m. in Township Hall to seek a use variance for construction of 240 units of middle income and low income housing on a landlocked tract between Mt. Lafayette and Terhune Roads.

The area is zoned "Engineering." No new residential construction is allowed there under the present zoning ordinance except by use variance. PCII will also ask for setback and height variances. The Zoning Board will send its recommendation to Township Committee for final action.

PCII will appear before the Township's site plan review board this week with its plans. At a special meeting scheduled for next Wednesday, the Regional Planning Board will consider the PCII proposal, and PCII will make its third municipal appearance next Thursday before the Zoning Board.

PCII architects have prepared a sketch plan showing four clusters of buildings, each group with its own parking lots (a total of 375 parking spaces for the entire project.)

One of the seven areas contains a six-story building with 12 one-bedroom apartments. In the six other groups are 70 two-bedroom units, 86 with three bedrooms and 12 with four bedrooms. A community building has also been provided.

The apartment units are clustered on either side of the Transcontinental Pipeline right-of-way that cuts through the property.

Setbacks in Engineering Zone are stated as 150 feet from the zone's boundary, and PCII is asking that this be reduced to 60 feet. Also, the zone requires setbacks of 60 feet from any lot line within the zone, and PCII wants that reduced to 30 feet.

Height in the zone is given at a 38 foot maximum. PCII seeks 75 feet.

The Universal Academy for Music, formed in Scotch Plains a little over a year ago according to a spokesman, moved to Princeton last October. Lynn Stewart Geddes of Stockton is president.

Its goal is to motivate and reward high school music students and to dramatize through concert tours the quality and high character of American youth. Students who have already won a state competition in band, orchestra or choir are invited to audition.

Heard at Carnegie Hall. This summer's concert tour is the pilot program. Organized in choral, band and symphony units, the young people were housed at Rider College for a week beginning June 28. Their concert at Carnegie Hall on Friday drew praise from the New York Times, which described the Young Americans in Concert as "fine looking, well scrubbed and affluent young Americans."

The group gave a second concert on Sunday evening in Constitution Hall, Washington and was booked into Albert Hall, London this Friday. Plans call for stops in Paris, Zurich, Innsbruck, Venice, Rome and Nice. The tour home July 28. The cost is $995 per student.

"Young Americans in Concert" took off the concept of one Geddes, who has spent most of his life working with youth, as an administrator in educational programs, as a church worker and as a counselor in foreign educational travel programs. Assisting him are Wayne Shumway of Ashbury Park and Frank Wirig of Morrisville, Pa.

The music directors are Dr. Max F. Dalby, music professor and head of the department at Utah State University, who is the tour's general concert director and conductor of the band; Ralph Matley, music professor at Utah State who is in charge of the symphony orchestra, and William Ramsey, Utah State director of choral activities, conductor of the concert choir.

The group of 500 high schoolers took off for Europe on two chartered planes, accompanied by 48 chaperones, staff and directors. Plans for next year call for three tour groups.

ABSENTEEISM AT THIS

Plans Made to Combat It. An Attendance Officer, named full-time, will probably be set up at Princeton High School this fall, said Assistant Principal J. Alfred Seitz this week.

Until now, responsibility for student attendance has been divided among many people. Mr. Seitz explained: school nurses, class deans, teachers and administrators.

Under Mr. Seitz' proposal, there would be one central liaison with a full-time staff member in charge, making easier to check student attendance and to find out where most of the absenteeism is occurring, he continued.

"One of a teacher's first responsibilities is accountability where student attendance is concerned," Mr. Seitz said. "The teacher should call the parent and find out why the student is absent. The teacher must assume this responsibility, but it hasn't been done as much in the past as it should have been. If there is still persistent cutting, then it becomes an administrative matter," he said.

The cost of a full-time attendance person wouldn't be great, he estimated, because teachers who have been involved part time with attendance can now go back to full-time teaching.

KUSER TO SEEK OFFICE

As Township Committee Chairman John E. Kuser, 140 Galbreath Drive West, is the candidate selected to run for Township Committee on the Republican ticket with Mrs. Barbara B. Smoyer.

Mr. Kuser replaces the late William R. White, who died suddenly on June 7. The Princeton Township Republican can County Committee announced Mr. Kuser's selection this week.

The candidate attended elementary schools in Princeton and was graduated from Princeton University, magna cum laude, with the class of 1948. During World War II, he served in the Mediterranean and Caribbean theatres as a landing boat officer.

He worked for Interchemical Corporation as a national accounts manager and division sales manager and most recently has been associated with Tennessee Chemical Corporation as product manager and market development manager.

Mr. Kuser is chairman of the board of trustees of the Stone Brook Millstone Watersheds Association and has been a member of the American Forestry Association since 1948. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the New Jersey State Assembly.

He is on the advisory board of Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart, and is chairman of the school's recruiting committee. He has also been a member of the Columbus Boychoir School development committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuser are the parents of three daughters.

DIAL LODGE DAMAGED

By Thursday Fire. One of three at Princeton's fire companies spent an hour and 24 minutes fighting a general alarm fire Thursday morning at Dial Lodge, 26 Prospect Avenue.

Believed to have started in a stuffed chair in a lounge room, the fire was confined to the first floor. The stone walls and heavy slate roof of the 62-year-old structure confined the blaze to the interior, but heat and pressure finally started to burst windows. One fireman at the scene said that it was apparent the fire had been smoldering for some time.

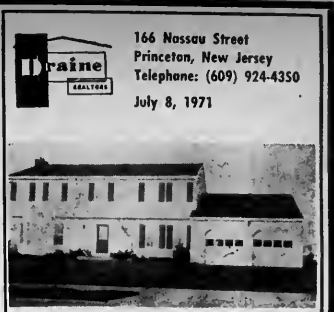

The fire was detected shortly after 10 by two teenagers who were painting a third floor room and noticed smoke on the second floor. The only two club members in the building at the time were John O'Brien, 26, of Boston, and Fred Eccleston, 21, of Detroit. All left through a rear fire escape.

BICENTENNIAL GOALS SET
In Princeton Friends Proposals. On the heels of celebrations for the nation's 195th anniversary, Friends of the Princeton Environment have opened several proposals of goals to the Princeton community for the Bicentennial date in 1976.

Among the subjects proposed by the Princeton Friends for consideration over the next five-year period are: open spaces designations, sewers, wells and watercourses planning, traffic relief, pollution control, and bicycle path construction.

Though several of these topics are already urged by other local groups, the Friends, a non profit organization formed to provide public support for action at all levels of government to protect and enhance the local environment. Feel that the Bicentennial can provide added stimulus for further efforts.

Environment Care. With concern for balanced planning between needs of a growing population and open spaces conservation, the Friends will seek funds for the acquisition of tracts of open spaces such as the Woodfield Reservation, along with implementation of a new state tax policy eliminating over-reliance on the property tax and thereby assisting homeowners on low and fixed incomes to remain in Princeton.

For rehabilitation and protection of wells and watercourses in the Stony Brook-Millstone watershed the Friends are urging construction of a regional sewerage system.

As a corollary, they encourage protection of streams feeding Carnegie Lake through individual neighborhood associations and a large-scale effort between Princeton residents and the University towards restoring the Lake itself.

Previous action on recycling by the Conservation Coalition was commended by the Friends. They further encourage adoption by the area's municipalities of a regional solid waste management system which would lower their individual costs, reduce pollution, and conserve natural resources by offering an incentive to the communities to aid in preliminary steps for recycling.

Traffic Concerns. Congested traffic conditions in downtown Princeton are also on the agenda of problem areas for the group. Construction of by-pass roads and development of public transportation along with creation of bicycle and footpaths in high-speed areas are measures strongly backed by the Friends.

As a particularly appropriate goal for the 1976 Bicentennial, the association also endorses the designation of 'Historic District' along Routes 206 and 27 from Lawrenceville to Kingston, known together from the early 18th century as the King's Highway.

Widespread Support Sought. Other groups, the Friends hope, will propose other goals which may be coordinated in a joint effort to assure the future integrity of the Princeton community. The Friends are asking the mayors of the Borough and Township to appoint a Bicentennial Committee, comprising all elements of the community to combine plans with neighboring towns over mutual concerns.

The Friends of the Princeton Environment is directed by a board of trustees whose officers are: Edwin C. Hutter, chairman; Mrs. J. Richardson Dilworth, vice-chairman; Mrs. James C. Sayen, secretary; and Mrs. Thomas C. Southerland Jr., treasurer.

OFFICERS NAMED

To PBA 130. New officers for 1971-72 have been named to Chapter 130 of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, which serves both Princetons and West Windsor Township.

They are Borough Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt, president; Township Ptl. Jerry Offredo, vice-president; Borough Ptl. William Hunter, recording secretary; Township Ptl. John Hammond, treasurer; Township Ptl. David Funk, financial secretary; and West Windsor Ptl. Joseph Mazotas, sergeant-at-arms.

CANDIDATE TO SPEAK

She will outline her campaign platform and answer questions about her position on legislation affecting women.

There are two ways of getting the antiques you've always wanted: Find them or make them. Our way is to make them. For several reasons. We can concentrate on museum-quality pieces. We can coordinate them with upholstered pieces and hand-crafted accessories. And we can create custom pieces to match your particular dream. (Thomas Jefferson didn't own a stereo. PLANNERS AT WORK Walks, Bikes, Clusters. Side-walk and bicycle plans were formally incorporated into the Master Plans of Borough and Township at the Regional Planning Board meeting Tuesday night.

In other business, the board agreed to slice in half, via the minor subdivision route, the proposed 72-lot North Hill development, allowing the developer to go ahead with traditional development of 17 lots in one section, and use the newer cluster approach in the remaining part. The land is east of Cherry Hill Road and west of Arreton.

Preliminary plans for the 17-lot parcel, with houses on one- and one-half acre plots, were approved. Carteret Savings and Loan, the developer, hopes to start work in two or three months. The company will come before the board in September for final approval.

The 92.3-acre second section, designed cluster-fashion, moved more slowly. Carteret proposes 55 houses on 29 acres, with a minimum lot size of 150 by 150 feet, and 63 acres left to open space.

First-Hand Inspection. Examining Carteret's cluster proposal in some detail, board members agreed that it should have a through road that would connect Cherry Hill and Route 206 and not merely a pair of cul-de-sacs. Board members also decided that the site plan review board should explore the area "on the hoof" before making recommendations.

Residential developments are not required to appear before site plan review, attorney A. C. Reeves Hicks pointed out for Carteret. Board chairman Hans K. Sander said that if the ordinance is revised, such developments may well be subject to site review.

Informal talks about cluster plans will be held later this summer before a final decision is reached.

Described as resembling "a tunnel of love," the University's newly designed rowing tank is ready for the oars. The new design is only one story, compared to the 1969 two-story building. In other economy measures, the University's architects have eliminated toilets (crew can use facilities next door in the boat-house) and cut down the heating system to a bare minimum.

Also, water in the tank will now be moved horizontally, by the work of the oarsmen themselves, assisted by a paddle wheel. In the earlier design, a complex vertical system of motion requiring the two-story building, has been proposed. The tank will be filled, and the water not replenished, the architect said. The new tank is next to the boathouse off Washington Road, above the flood-plain level. Construction will be cinder-block, covered with stucco to match the boathouse. Site plan had recommended approval, and the board agreed.

In other matters, the board unanimously agreed to plug a hole in the zoning ordinance requiring the conversion of all or part of the residential section of a joint-occupancy building from one use to another.

The tightening was recommended by Superior Court Judge Frank Kingfield. The planning board will not hold a regular August meeting, Mr. Sander announced.

TEENS ON THE MOVE

In New "Place," "Flight Two" is already air-borne in its new quarters at 173 Nassau. Teens are climbing the stairs in increasing numbers every day to exchange summer ideas with the core of young people hired by Youth Concerns to "do something" about summer in Princeton.

The rambling old apartment on the second floor of the University-owned building is over the quarters once occupied by the Whole Earth Center. The University is charging a nominal $150 for eight weeks of use.

It's a combination office-drop in place, open Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Tuesdays and Thursdays from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Saturdays and Sundays from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. "Flight Two" will be staffed by seven teens, all of whom will be paid for the work they'll be doing. Barrie Peterson, Seminary student, will be in charge.

Theatre Buffs. Ideas are already beginning to bloom. Annie Brockway of the McCarter Theatre staff is working with a group of 33 theatre buffs, ranging in age from 13 to second-year graduate students, and in levels of experience from zero to quite a lot.

This group plans street theatre, story theatre, one-act plays. There will be two performance weeks around town, one in July and one in August. In July the group will give A. A. Milne's "The Ugly Duckling" and Lanford Wilson's "Wandering." The August production will be announced in plenty of time.

Mrs. Brockways' 33 are meeting daily. Mondays through Thursdays in workshop-rehearsals in the Borough Hall gym.

Other ideas — a revolving paperback library with perhaps 100 volumes, circulating out of the "Flight Two" rooms at 173 Nassau — an art workshop at "Flight Two" — canoe or camping trips — photography — cooking.

Night swimming is still in the dark. Possibilities of the Community Park or Broadmead Swim Club pools are still in the air, but there is nothing firm from either.

Meanwhile, adult-types who would like to donate curtains, cushions for sitting or even lampshades, are cordially invited to climb the stairs to "Flight Two."

CAR ACCIDENT FATAL

To Former Princetonian. Christopher W. Gordon, 22, of Mechanicsville, Pa., was killed in an automobile accident Sunday in Plumstead Township, Bucks County. He had lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Gordon, at 522 Lake Drive for a number of years before the family moved to Pennsylvania nine years ago.

Mr. Gordon was born in Plainfield, had attended public schools in Princeton and was an alumnus of John Hopkins University in Baltimore. He left college to serve with the Army Engineering Corps and at the time of his death was a student in Delaware Valley College, Doylestown, Pa.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a brother, Lothrop, and two sisters, Deborah and Barbara. The service was held at the United Methodist Church Parish House in New Hope. Contributions in his memory may be sent to the Chris Gordon Scholarship Fund, c/o The Solebury National Bank, New Hope, Pa.

ON THE BALLOT

Salary Referendum. An ordinance placing the question of annual salaries for Borough Councilmen on the November ballot will be introduced next Tuesday at Council's regular July meeting.

The meeting will be held in Borough Hall at 8 p.m. It is not expected that the question of a raise for the Borough mayor will be on the ballot. Council last month, by a 4-2 vote, granted the mayor a raise from $500 to $1,000 yearly.

over town, according to Lt. Michael Carnevale, nearly all of them late Thursday night and early Friday morning. "We suspect those responsible are doing it from cars," Lt. Carnevale commented.

Among the targets: windows of cars parked in the Park Place lot and in front of 355 Walnut Lane; a truck window on Tulane Street; plate glass windows at Camelot Kitchens, 236 Nassau, Skillman Upholstery, Spring Street, and Edith's Corset Shop, Chambers Street.

George H. Johnson of Jersey Shore, Pa., owner of a small foreign car parked in front of 355 Walnut, told Township police that he recalled hearing a crash of some sort and a car speeding away. He had been visiting friends between 8:45 and 10 Friday night.

Juvenile Arrested. At 9 Saturday night, Ptl. Thomas Michaud and Ptl. Ronald Holliday arrested a 15-year-old Borough juvenile for breaking windows at the vandalism-plagued YMCA construction site on Avalon Place.

The youth was charged with malicious mischief. His case will be handled by a juvenile court, police said.

FACES THREE CHARGES

After Car Check. Alejandro Rodriguez, 24, 199 John Street, faces three charges in Borough court July 21 — the consequences of a routine motor vehicle check by police Friday night.

Rodriguez was stopped on Nassau Street at 9:58 by Ptl. Thomas Michaud and Ptl. Ronald Holliday. They later charged him with resisting arrest, loud and offensive language and assault and battery, after they and Rodriguez allegedly became involved in a shouting and pushing match. Rodriguez was released in $50 bail to await his court hearing.

HOUSE RANSACKED

At 244 Edgerstone. The home of Arthur L. Keiser Jr., 244 Edgerstone, was broken into and ransacked during the weekend. Mr. Keiser, who had been away, reported the theft Monday afternoon.

Police report that the entire house was ransacked but they do not know at this point if anything was taken. All major "attractions," such as television sets were left intact, according to Ptl. David Cromwell who investigated. A rear door was forced to gain entry, he said.

CAR RUNS RED LIGHT

Police Arrest Four. Two Princeton juveniles and two young men were arrested Monday afternoon by police who gave chase after a car ran a red light at Nassau and Witherspoon.

The four were stopped at Wiggins and Greenview with the aid of a roadblock. Taking part in the apprehension were Lenhardt, also of the Borough, who initially sought to stop the car; Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt, also of the Borough; and Ptl. Anthony Gaylord of the Township.

Arrested were Vincent

Any kind of breeze, any time of day, will be welcome in the immediate future. After one of the best three-day weekends the Weather Man has produced in the summer, July heat and humidity are with us again.

Friday may bring a slight dip in the temperature, but the thermometer will top the 80s right through Sunday. And, to coin a phrase, if you want to find rain, look in the dictionary.

The juveniles were charged with possession of stolen property — the car allegedly was stolen from East Orange on June 17 — and possession of an illegal weapon.

Boone and Herndon received the same charges, plus contributing to the delinquency of a minor. They were released in $3000 bail to await a hearing here July 21. A detainer was also issued against Herndon signed by East Orange police, charging him with larceny of a car.

The two juveniles were taken

United Fund Lowers Goal Slightly in "Hold-the-Line" Year

Belt tightening has become a common practice these days with the effects of the economic slowdown that began a year or so ago still being felt. It's happening at all levels from the corporate down to the individual household, and when budgets are trimmed, one of the first items to feel the pinch is charitable contributions.

The United Fund fell victim to the bearish climate last year, failing for the first time since 1960 to achieve its announced goal. It's collections totalled $574,750, a fine increase over the previous year, but about 10% short of the $635,261 hoped for.

This year has brought quite a change in the Fund's plans. Faced with somewhat improved financial picture but still not rosy, the board of trustees has unanimously adopted a budget of $619,916, 2.4% less than last year.

Last Year's Problems. In contrast, last year's budget came in around 30% higher than the year before. A significant part of this was due to the adding of the Youth Center to the list of member agencies; sizeable increases given to others also pushed it up. In any event, it left the Fund with the unenviable task of raising its revenues by 25% when everyone else's were holding even or dropping.

This year's goal represents an 8% increase over the amount raised in 1970, a realistic amount, but one that fund officials still believe will be extremely difficult to achieve.

Max D. Blumenfeld, the Fund's president, commented that "we felt we ought to try and hold the line this year. In light of the present economic climate we didn't feel justified in asking for more money."

With this policy to work with, the fund's 30-member budget committee, chaired by Richard J. Magee, had to make plenty of hard decisions.

1972 Allocations to United Fund Agencies

No National Allocations. One of the most difficult was the committee's recommendation that no 1972 allocations be made to the four national organizations from which requests had been received. These include the American Social Health Association, the Council for Social Work Education, the National Assembly for Social Policy and Development and the USO (National). Last year they received $4,400 from the Fund, with the USO getting the lion's share at $3,500.

While noting that these are all deserving organizations, the committee felt that the Fund must meet local needs first.

This left the budget requests of some 25 other agencies to study. In the end, the committee found it necessary to recommend that 18 of them receive lower allocations in 1972 than 1971. Rarely have so many had their funds cut.

Most of the reductions are small. A couple of agencies will receive sizeable increases, others will receive the same.

During its deliberations the Committee established a set of priorities. First, the needs of new and developing agencies were recognized as being more urgent than those of more mature, well-established ones. Also agencies with little non-Fund revenue were seen to have narrow margins of survival in contrast to agencies with significant sources of other income.

Beginning right at home, the Fund was able to cut its own budget for headquarters plus campaign by $14,000, owing to the reduction in its staff after the resignation of executive director William E. Coley.

Economize. In cases where the amount recommended was substantially less than that requested, the Committee provided suggestions for economizing or getting additional revenue.

The YWCA and the Princeton Community Homemaker Service were told to consider increases in fees. The YMCA, which had hoped to add a new position, an extension worker, and was told "in view of the difficult financial period that we are in it does not seem propitious to begin such a program at this time."

The George Washington Boy Scout Council, which will receive $1,000 less than last year, was cited for holding down expenditures well. However, the Committee felt that even more conservative salary administration and closer attention to certain line items such as mileage payments would help balance the budget. The committee also felt that other Funds supporting this agency should underwrite a larger share of the deficit.

Several other agencies were told to look for ways to economize or to postpone planned salary increases. The Princeton area Council of Community Services was given a small increase, but the budget committee reported that the initiation of a new program requiring a $1,000 student stipend and a $5,000 reserve fund "does not seem advisable at this time." Family Service was told it might be time to raise its fee schedule, or to look for additional source of revenue.

The Child Guidance Center budget was cut by $3,500, with no funds for the Special Project on Drug Abuse, which had received substantial support from the Fund for two years. Noting that no proposed budget was submitted by the agency, the committee said it hoped that the program would be almost entirely financed by government funds (local, state and/or federal).

It further recommended that Child Guidance try to arrange for funding through the Princeton Regional School System and continue efforts to raise funds from municipal governments of surrounding towns.

Receiving the greatest increase in its 1972 allocation was the Youth Center, which will get $49,000, more than 33% above last year's figure. The Committee points out that while its initial programs have been educationally oriented, it is now felt that a recreational and community center type of program should be built up.

This will require additional staff so the building can be open for longer hours with adequate supervision, and thus, the committee notes, the monetary increase is based almost entirely on the increase in staff.

Two other agencies obtaining significantly more this year were the Hightstown East Windsor YMCA and the Hightstown Day Care Center. Commenting on the large increases, Mr. Magee noted that this area's population has grown rapidly, out of proportion to the other areas covered by the Fund.

The drive begins this fall when volunteer workers begin to translate the dollar figures on paper into dollars in the bank, and aim for a new streak of successful United Fund Red Cross campaigns.

BUILDING SELF-CONFIDENCE: The Rainmaker, in Summer Intime's romantic comedy, helps plain little Lizzie to develop self-confidence and pride in herself. Here he is, giving her a lesson. John Vennema is Starbuck, the rainmaker, and Deborah Savadge is Lizzie. They're on view again this weekend.

'Twelfth Night' Full and Rich, Comedy Low at Summer Intime

Many years ago, "Twelfth Night" taught me that Shakespeare could do comedy as well as everything else. I had thought that Hamlet's many sick jokes were his only comic inventions, so well had school done its job of emphasizing the humorless.

Knowing only the deathly part of Shakespeare (I tend to love the darker vision anyway), I did not see the few mortal inches that keep the tragic and comic apart. This play opened the lovely side, so it is a play to which I am curiously and eternally grateful. Thank you "Twelfth Night."

And thank you, Summer Intime, for producing so full and rich a version of my old friend play. You do it without pomposity or hardism; this play is a thing you do, not a poem you say.

And thank you, too, for understanding that this is at its basis a love play: illusory, vanity-ridden, confusing, and about what we think we see, or choose to see, or cannot see, in love. You have also made its symmetry clear, and you make many careful choices about the several balancing acts the play requires.

Low Games Win. The success of "Twelfth Night" depends, I think, on whether or not its actors can play low games, and Summer Intime, I'm happy to say, can play just as low as anyone. Through male impersonation, weening egoism, drunken knavery, sexual affronts and other offenses, Summer Intime can cast its sophistication well aside. Most characters have been able to achieve the key to low comedy. I think: a self-definition rarely penetrated by other people, a self-vision that does not respond to mirrors.

Witness to this is John Vennema's excellent Malvolio. Vennema resists the temptation to make this snob piteous; we can go on disliking him for his arrogant, sneering foppishness, despite how ill-used he is. And Richard Ferrugio, liberated from his customary sobriety, as Sir Toby Belch fills the role by expanding its limited dimensions (and his stomach) with strength and constancy (and considerable pillows).

Betty Hager's Olivia is not the cool, detached beauty she could have been; she is enticing and primed for love, and she never forgets it. Her responses to Geoff Peterson's unctuous (but not extremely unctuous) suitor Orsino are those any vain girl would have to a similarly vain male chauvinist pig.

An Impassioned Hiding. But it is in the figures of Viola and Feste that the dimensions of role must be carefully met and expanded by intelligence and sensitivity, or the play itself becomes a joke, which it mustn't be. or girl) is beautiful (I'm sure I've said this of her before). She does not need to speak a single wish.

Larry Strichman, cool and isolated by his place as fool, must do the most difficult kind of thing, speak in riddles and yet speak the truth so we can understand it. Moreover, I think it is he who must be lord of misrule in this comedy, and his professional fool's role must always be distinguished from the amateur foolery of the naturals. Sirs Toby and Andrew. Mr. Strichman has not yet done all of this, but he can; his wit dominated as it should: clarifying and reminding us of reality through all the fogs of affectation and foolish love.

Thank you, finally, to Daniel F. Berkowitz, who directed simply and clearly; we see the play without complexity. And thank you, someone, for the music; I've never heard Shakespeare's songs given such just and meaningful performances (by Mr. Strichman, notably) before. This production causes regrets only when the brevity of its funny stay in Princeton is recalled. For this reason, go. Go twice.

Thank you, thank you,

SUSPENSE-DRAMA NEXT

At Clinton Summer Theatre.
"Wait Until Dark", a suspense-drama by Frederick Knott, will be the second production at the newly air-conditioned
Clinton Summer Theatre, where "Hello Dolly" is showing through Sunday. Frederick
Knott topped his classic, "Dial
M for Murder" with this fast-paced mystery.

By using the dramatic concept of pitting a blind girl against three desperate con-men, Knott caused audiences to shudder for a full year on Broadway. It will run at Clinton from July 15 through July 18.

Jeffrey Martin, a new member of the Clinton Summer Theatre, will be directing "Wait Until Dark". A recent graduate of Hofstra University, he will appear in several productions this summer as well as direct three shows.

Appearing in this suspense-drama are Ann Spencer and Arthur Bicknell. Ann was with the company last summer in several productions, including

"Bell, Book and Candle" and
"Cabaret". Besides performing on stage, Ann has appeared in commercials and specials for television in Rochester, N.Y.

Arthur Bicknell was also part of last summer's troupe and received special acclaim for his performance in "I Do!
I Do!". In addition to acting, he has done a great deal of writing including full length plays, several one acts and also radio scripts for WHCU in Ithaca, N. Y.

David Cash, who will also be playing a major role in "Wait Until Dark", appeared as Pseudolus in the Clinton Summer Music Hall's production of "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" in 1970.

IT'S NEW To Us

THE BLUE CUPBOARD

At Doris Burrell's, Natural inclinations will out, as we all know, and for Mrs. Doris R. Burrell, this has meant gradually adding boutique items to her beauty shop at 21 Leigh Avenue.

It starts with the blue cupboard in the front section of the airy, attractive shop. Here she has hand-crafted accessories, such as jewelry, bags and even bullet belts. A Burma shirt in a dazzling abstract print is displayed on a hanger on the side of the cupboard and nearby are dresses from India in block-printed cotton.

Mrs. Burrell ventured into clothes and accessories last December... a few things at first, gradually adding more. She has owned a beauty shop for about 25 years, but has always had half a mind to go into fashions. She has designed clothes and from time to time has joined forces with two friends to give special fashion shows, featuring the designs of all three.

For the high-fashion girls with the second-look legs, the blue cupboard contains hot pants in soft black rabbit fur — closed at the front with tiny locks. Wear the key on your bracelet. Also in white fur. ($25)

From France, hip-huggers in suede patchwork featuring muted pastel tones, and, for the woman who needs a waistband to her shorts, suede patchwork in mahogany color.

The cupboard, as you browse through, has suede chokers with metal cutouts at the center; handcrafted macrame belts in rolled, silky strands of rich blue (made by a woman whose husband is studying for his doctorate here, Mrs. Burrell says); and long earrings of light aluminum that dangle a wooden bead and look rather African.

In fact, much of the jewelry has an African note — especially the spirals of brass or aluminum that are linked into belts by Chikanga, many with a crazed glass center. The Chikanga rings feature a turquoise-colored stone caught in a slanting, wrapped line of copper wire that continues down around the finger, or a crazed, green glass ball enclosed in brass coils and perched atop a flattened coil. There are metal chokers, light in weight, with pendants of various designs. The jewelry ranges in price from $1 to $20.

The Burma shirt comes in one size. Cut with a wide, loose A-line and a generous hem, it features a Mao collar and buttons to the waist. The cotton sateen fabric is printed in a number of colorful patterns, and there's a matching wide sash. Wear the dress loose and wrap the sash turban style. ($18.95)

Mrs. Burrell has knitted shirts from Italy, and folk shirts — the traditional wrap-type with a flair at the hem, are due in any day. Among the India imports are bikinis in dark prints, and long-sleeved dresses that employ the decorative borders of the fabric in attractive ways.

There's a catalogue to browse through and enough samples of the India prints around to give you a clear idea of fabric and color. The dresses come in various lengths, some with wrapped fronts, others button to the hem, still others zip in the back.

Mrs. Burrell also is a patron of Liberty House in Newark where blacks are encouraged to develop their talents. You'll see pen-and-inks, block prints, and especially, charcoal drawings that capture the grace of the black women.

We saw a sampling of laundry bags in cheery color combinations, made with twin pockets on the front for hand laundry items. Also the very handy hot mitt that looks like a bright colored hand towel, but you slide a hand in each end and lift hot pans and casseroles with safety.

On a small table at the shop are handcrafted pottery from Mexico, selected by Mrs. Burrell on a recent trip. Mixed in with it are pottery pieces by a Princeton woman — vases with the well-rounded sides, bowls in several sizes. Some are painted in soft colors against a creamy or bluish glaze, others have darker, earth tones.

The small shop-within-a-shop, with its clothes, its art and crafts, is very likely to push out some of the hair dryers in the rear. "It is all so interesting," Mrs. Burrell remarks. "It has opened up a

SUMMER CANDIES
At Louise Maas. For your hostess, for your special friend at the nursing home, for your nephew with the sweet tooth and for a special gift to yourself, we'd like to put in a word about the summer candies at Louise Maas's shop on Palmer Square.

Miss Maas, a retired social worker who has taken us all under her wing, has the traditional salt water taffy, peanut butter kisses and molasses mint kisses in containers for the kids to spend their allowances on. Two cents for one of this or that.

Only in the summer will you find Miss Maas's old-fashioned molasses strips, lightly dusted with sugar, and the "snowballs" — which are coconut covered caramel or marshmallow balls.

It's time for mothballs, too, and at Louise Maas a mothball is made of creamed filbert. To keep the white theme, see the white pretzels, the white almond bark and the coconut pears. All indescribably good.

Try the "mint ice," some call it "bark," a solid pan of white chocolate flavored with mint and tinted with green food coloring. Or the rosebuds coated in pastel green or yellow or pink.

Mint leaves come in beautiful arrangements already boxed; or choose an assortment of the jelly candies: pectin strawberries, raspberries, fruit slices or fruit patties. All so summery in flavor and appearance.

Louise Maas has fruit cordials and fruit drops from Belgium, with a dot of pure flavor in the centers, assorted bonbons, misty mints, and chocolate nut dragees with pastel sugar coatings.

Even acorns — with pistachio or almond flavor.

The shop is open Monday through Friday during the summer until 5 p.m.; closed on Saturdays.

LISI PAINT STORE OPENS
Opposite Princeton Hospital. Last week looked like old home week at the new Lisi Paint and Wallpaper store, as well-wishers dropped by at 266 Witherspoon Street. Sam Lisi has lived in Princeton all of his life, and there's a lot of friends.

Old and new friends were taking advantage of the introductory offers; we suggest you do, too, before the weekend. Lisi handles Murphy paint — all 980 colors, tones and tints — which was available in Princeton for years through the Boyce Lumber Company, until the latter went out of business.

The Murphy Company, founded in 1844 in Newark, moved to Baltimore 17 years ago, and is the 12th largest paint manufacturer in the county. The new emphasis is on acrylic paints for interiors and exteriors, and you'll find that Lisi Paint & Wallpaper has them.

The wallpaper section is very thoughtfully planned for the customer who wants to sit and browse the sample books. We counted 19 books and were told by manager C. W. Davall of Kingston that about 100 would soon be on the shelves. You perch on a stool and look at the books on a slant-top table with shelves of more books underneath.

The attractive, well-lighted store has all of its paint wares in paints in full view, so you can serve yourself, without waiting for a clerk to find time to hunt around in the back room.

"We're going to work into hardware this fall," Mr. Lisi adds. The counter for the hardware sales is already in place, so he means it.

The new firm, which has been in the planning and renovating stages since February, will supply paints to home owners, to painting contractors and to industry. It will continue Mr. Lisi's business as a paint contractor for home owners, offering free estimates. There's a doorway cut through to Balestrieri's carpentry shop so that's another facet to explore.

We noticed that Lisi Paint & Wallpaper has a complete range of architects' colors, with tear-out chips, and manuals as well. There's a master index by color family to flip through on a counter-top stand. You can work out color combinations to suit the most particular person — yourself.

Manager Davall has spent 16 years in all phases of the paint and varnish business, including the technical and industrial end, so you'll find him very helpful. He pointed out to us that some of the paint is clearly marked "non-toxic" when it is to be used on children's furniture and toys.

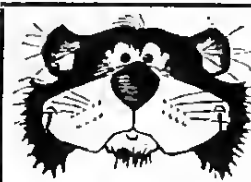

He also showed us the wood stain X-3d, a fast-drying stain featuring all-in-one application. It leaves no lap or bush marks.

There's a good folder on acrylic latex house paints; another on porch and floor enamel. In fact, if the truth must be known, we got carried away and brought home "Interior Finishes," "Latex Trim Enamel" and "Accent Colors" too. All contain color chips, and Lisi will mix and match on the spot.

PLAYHOUSE & PRINCE
Summer of '42 (now playing)
All the little episodes of the discovery of sex by adolescent boys are captured in this film — some are funny, others poignant. The setting is a beach town of the New England coast in the early days of World War II.
The acting is close to perfection, especially by the three boys, Jerry Houser, Gary Grimes and Oliver Conant.
One of the girls is Christopher Norris, another is Katherine Allentuck, and the "older" married woman of 20 or so, is played by Jennifer O'Neill, who has befriended Grimes.
There is a nude bedroom scene, which director Robert Mulligan handles with delicacy. Robert Surtees' color photography is superb, and the musical score by Michael Legrand is excellent.

O.K. Bar License Attacked.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I would like to bring to the public's attention that on May 24, 1971, a petition signed by 52 residents within the 200 ft. required area of property at 18 Lytle Street, owned and formerly operated as the O.K. Bar by Mrs. Teresa Nini, was presented to the Princeton Borough Zoning Board.

We had asked that this building not be reopened for the sale of alcoholic beverages. Our request was overruled. I might add that a large number of people in the John Wither- spoon area also reject this opening.

Community signatures would have been overwhelming if collected. The Rev. Marion F. Stokes, A. M. E. Methodist Church, also questions the need of three liquor licenses on Lytle Street.

How can needs of poor people be so blindly ignored? Already there exists a package liquor store owned and operated by Grover Tash at 29 Lytle Street, and the American Legion Post 218 at 26 Lytle Street has a private liquor license. Is there need for a public bar?

Only one block below Lytle Street is the Clay Street Project which houses many of our very young people. On the corner of Lytle and John Streets, is the summer wading pool and playground. We cannot encourage or appreciate the operation of three buildings on a street that is approximately 582 feet long.

Neither do I welcome the idea of so many families and children being directly exposed to them. I ask, is this conducive to good citizenry? There are seven liquor licenses now in effect between Birch Avenue and McClean Streets. Can Princetonians in all good faith see the need for an eighth license becoming reactivated?

Sixteen Lytle Street homeowners all signed against the reopening of this business. Five apartments and one single dwelling are owned by one landlord and three other dwellings are owned by members of his family.

Most of us have known Mrs. Nini as a fine respectable person and I hope my charges and complaints will not be considered a personal attack against her.

Mrs. Nini said that she has already gone into contract for sale and it is rumored that a business man is interested in obtaining the license. If rumors are true, this gives more reason for concern for much of the property in Princeton that is in poor condition, belongs to him. Blacks can't speak out for fear of being ousted. Rents are exorbitant for the type of dwelling he offers.

Constantly one hears of how many bars are prevalent in black communities but has it ever been revealed that many of us do not want them? Perhaps it is necessary for Princeton residents to realize that the black community also desires streets that are quiet and orderly.

I invite the townsmen who would care to take the time to see the length of this street that is lawfully allowed to house three liquor licensed buildings. Perhaps some of the existing problems we are forced to contend with would be understood because our problems will eventually become the town's problems.

I have no intent to make this a racial issue but can you dare imagine your discontent if such a situation existed in your streets. Greedy landlords and municipalities that only see the dollar sign must not overshadow human beings. Focus must be directed to every street and consideration for those occupants who dwell in them if Princeton is to ever become the town so many of us have worked so hard to make it.

Quarry Park Site Opposed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Almost every Spring there are thoughts of new parks and recreation areas in Princeton; and the past Spring was no exception. The current slogan is "Little Green Parks".

Former Borough Councilman Alan W. Carrick, in a letter published June 17, opposed the purchase of the "Quarry Site" for such purposes. This writer agrees with him for a number of reasons.

The plot in question is not located where it might serve any substantial number of our residents. Access to it is very limited — from the east by trespass over public housing property and from the west only through the dead end of Spruce Street.

Public security would be a problem, the area being relatively secluded and hence a likely target for revellers. In other communities it has become necessary to flood-light public areas all night, and although Princeton is yet spared this expense, some night-time disorders at Marquand Park and periodic scattering of the cannon balls at Battlefield Park are ominous.

There is no regulation size baseball field in this part of Princeton, except those owned by the University. Yet it would be impossible to install one at the "Quarry Site", shape and dimensions of the plot being inadequate.

We now have an excellent "Little Green Park" fronting on Harrison Street only 800 feet away from the former quarry. It is well maintained, tree shaded and has equipment for toddlers, swings, jungle gyms, a wading pool and basketball court. Yet the use of it by local residents hardly justifies the cost of maintenance, let alone the capital value. The trash baskets are often full of empty beer cans in the morning.

About 600 feet in another direction from the former quarry, fronting on Hamilton Avenue opposite the Choir College, is another "Little Green Park". Here the Borough owns more than 700 feet frontage, less than half of which has been developed as child play area and fenced in. It doesn't seem to be extensively used.

The present surface of the "Quarry Site" varies about 40 feet in elevation. Any recreational use would require grading and fill. There would no doubt be drainage problems on the northerly boundary, along the rear of privately owned properties on Hamilton Avenue.

The better use, I think, is for much needed housing, if properly planned and engineered.

Great Road Bikeway Needed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Princeton Township capital budget for the coming year includes funds for widening the northern section of the Great Road.

While we have strong reservations as to the need for or the usefulness of widening the Great Road, we prefer that to another road. However, the possible widening of the Great Road is related to the very real need for a bikeway.

We have previously expressed support for the Bicycle Path Master Plan. This plan calls for a 3-stage implementation. As now planned, the Great Road section would be implemented in the 3rd stage — undoubtedly several years off.

Road widening involves considerable planning, expense, disruption and environmental damage. After a road is completed, adjacent property owners are frequently quick to replace trees, shrubs, ground cover, fences, etc.

Once all this is done, it would be extremely difficult, if not impossible, to convince governing bodies and affected property owners that the disruption, etc. must occur again in order to install a bikeway. Therefore, we strongly recommend the following:

1. Since the Bicycle Path Master Plan has not yet been adopted and since the municipality may be spending money now for road widening, we believe that the Great Road bicycle path along the northern section should be considered separately from the Bicycle Path Master Plan.

2. At the same time that the Great Road is widened, grading for the future bicycle path should be done. This way there will be less disruption, expense, damage, etc. during later construction of the bicycle path and hence less opposition from property owners.

There is an urgent need for a bikeway along the entire Great Road. With two schools and rapidly increasing development, bikeways are important not only for bike rider's safety, but also as a way of reducing car traffic and its attendant pollution within Princeton — both Borough and Township.

It was unfortunate and short-sighted that the new Great Road alignment and the newly widened section at the southern end did not include a bikeway. However, Princeton Township now has the opportunity to act with foresight on the northern section.

The Southern New Jersey Group of the Sierra Club urges that a bicycle path be included in the planning and construction of the proposed widened northern section of the Great Road.

Save the Old Coward House.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is an open letter to the residents of West Windsor Township:

The old Coward house, located on the site of the soon-to-be-built high school, Hightstown and Clarksville Road, will soon be burned down to the ground. One of the few remaining old homes is to be destroyed because of progress.

If this old home is to be saved, I propose that it could be converted to a museum. This can only be done if Township residents show enough interest.

Information Needed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

May I respectfully request that you make available to your readers information as to when the Animal Shelter of the Princeton Small Animal Veterinarian Endowment is to be "open for business?"

Provision for this shelter on Mt. Lucas Road was made by trust by the late Dr. Cornelius Jaynes, Veterinarian, who died in 1968.

MRS. CHARLOTTE H. TEALL
15 Greenview Avenue

(Editor's Note: A reply from the Board of Trustees of S.A.V.E. follows.)

Information on Pet Shelter.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

There have been several letters written to your newspaper asking questions about the new animal shelter on Mt. Lucas Road. We would like to take this opportunity to answer these questions, as the shelter is about to open officially.

Dr. Cornelia Jaynes, at the time of her death, left the land upon which the S.A.V.E. shelter is built; and a sum of money in an irrevocable trust. This land was left to the S.A.V.E. organization for the express purpose of housing a small animal shelter for stray animals.

In accordance with her wishes such a shelter has been built. This shelter was built by the S.A.V.E. organization solely with funds contributed by private individuals to the Princeton Small Animal Rescue League. That organization has now merged with S.A.V.E. also in accordance with the wishes of Dr. Jaynes.

None of the funds left to the organization by Dr. Jaynes have gone into the building of this private shelter, and the income from the trust fund will cover only a very small portion of the operating expenses. The remaining expenses will continue to be borne by private individuals through contributions to S.A.V.E.

Because of both limited funds and limited facilities the S.A.V.E. shelter cannot handle privately owned pets. We will continue to place all stray animals found in Princeton Borough and Princeton Township, and do our best to help people who must, for specific reasons part with their pets.

It is our hope that the people of this community will understand why we can do only so much, and will co-operate with us in at least doing all we can for our strays.

Anyone wishing to adopt an animal should continue to call Mrs. Graves for information and an appointment. Anyone claiming a lost pet must obtain a redemption slip from the police department, and call Mrs. Graves for an appointment to go to the shelter and claim his pet.

We are very proud of our new shelter. It has been a dream for many of us for many years, and a facility that this community has needed desperately. We look forward to helping the community of Princeton, and in turn urge you all to help us.

Lemonade Christens New Neighborhood Park

"Anybody got a hat and ball?" somebody asked on the afternoon of the Fourth of July as Princeton's newest mini-park, Caldwell Park, subjected itself to formal dedication ceremonies.

Seemed a shame, with three lovely acres of greenward and a diamond all laid out and the grass not even worn down yet, but nobody had a hat and ball. Besides it was sunny out there.

So everybody stood around under the shade of giant and benign old trees, and there was lemonade and a very brief speech from James Sayen, who's chairman of the Township's Conservation Commission, and from Township Mayor James A. Floyd.

Caldwell Park is on Bertrand Drive in the new Shady Brook section of the Township, and you enter the landlocked park by walking between two houses.

Eventually, there will be benches under those old trees, and a sandbox for the smallest patrons. Eventually, too, everyone hopes, the Township's maintenance people will get rid of the poison-ivy.

The Township hopes Caldwell is only the first of several neighborhood parks. Mr. Sayen told the lemonade-drinkers that the Conservation Commission may designate certain neighborhoods, and then wait for neighbors themselves to move ahead. In the case of Caldwell, there had been an active neighborhood organization.

to Mercer County Jail for action by juvenile authorities.

During the chase, police observed the youths throwing articles out the car window. One of the items, they reported, was a revolver. Other items allegedly included narcotic paraphernalia.

5 JUVENILES ARRESTED

In Coin Wash Theft. Five juveniles ranging in age from 14 to 17 have been arrested by Township police in connection with a robbery Sunday at the University Cleaners & Laundry branch in the Princeton Shopping Center. All are residents of Skillman.

Each has been charged with malicious damage and larceny by Det. Anthony Pinelli, the Township's juvenile officer. Released to their parents, they will be prosecuted by juvenile authorities, he said.

The five allegedly broke open a coin box of an ironing machine at the U-Wash, which yielded $10.60. The youths also removed two coin receptacles from newspaper stands located a short distance away on the mall. They got 25c from one; the other they were not able to open before their arrest.

The incident happened at 11:45 p.m. Taking part in the arrests were Ptl. Frank Boccanfuso, Ptl. Jerry Offredo, Ptl. William Potts and Sgt. David Potts. The U-Wash is open 24 hours a day, police said.

WOMAN IS GRABBED

Walking Near Stadium. A middle-aged Township woman was pulled to the ground Saturday night while she was walking on Western Way just east of Palmer Stadium.

Police said that the woman was approached around 11:30 by a stranger on a bicycle.

THE COMPLETE HOME BUILDING SERVICE

The Inside Story: Why Pool Water Is So Clean

MR. CLEAN: He's Andy Tamasi whose main job is to keep watch over the pump room of the Princeton Community Park Pools. The total square footage of the three pools at the complex is 386,552 and when they are filled — the diving pool plunges to 19 feet — well, that's a lot of water. Heating that much takes about three weeks, but one task that never ends — in fact, it goes on 24 hours a day — is cleaning the water. It's done by a "bumping" process and it involves all the pipes and tanks shown in the pictures above. How it's done is explained in a story this page.

Why does the water at the Community Park pools always look so invitingly clean? Because dirt and impurities are being filtered out at the rate of 2300 gallons a minute, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

While chlorine and soda ash are added automatically — the latter to control the acid content of the water — the cleaning operation is a full-time manual operation. And although he is only one of a half-dozen who takes his turn in manning the pump room, the man in charge is Andy Tamasi — hired this spring as the first full-time maintenance man at Community Park.

The maze of tanks and plumbing in the pump room give the impression that it has been carved from the innards of an ocean liner engine room. The heart of the operation are three huge filtering tanks.

Water from the 50 by 40-foot diving pool flows through one at the rate of 800 gallons a minute; water from the main Olympic-size pool (158 feet by 75) and the wading pool flow through the other two at 1500 gallons a minute.

300 Steel Tubes. As explained by Mr. Tamasi, suspended in each tank are some 300 stainless steel mesh tubes about one-inch in diameter. A 50-pound bag of diatomaceous earth, a silica compound, is added to each tank.

As the pool water is pumped in, nothing can get through the stainless steel mesh but clean water. Dirt and impurities mix with the diatomaceous earth, slowly building up a coating around each tube.

Every few hours, depending on the number of people in the pool and the temperature, as the tubes grow brown with dirt, they have to be cleaned by a "pumping" operation. First, inlet and return valves are closed, isolating the water in the tank.

Inside each steel tube is a spring. These are made to contract when the plate to which they are attached is moved up and down by air pressure, causing the steel mesh to swell — like a weak spot on an inner tube. This expansion causes the coating mixture of diatomaceous earth and dirt to fall off.

The dirty water in the tank is then drawn off by pump to a pre-coat pot which is under high pressure. There the diatomaceous earth is cleansed and recirculated back into the system where it can be used for about four days, until it gets too dark and must be thrown out. The "bumping" operation for all three tanks takes about 20 minutes, Mr. Tamasi said.

motors that are in operation all the time. "Whenever you have heavy machinery going like this 24 hours a day, you always have to keep your eye on it," said Mr. Tamasi. "If we had to shut down for as little as one day, the water would become murky."

To man the pump station around the clock requires manpower and no one is exempt from his "bumping" tour. Taking turns along with Mr. Tamasi are Don Barr, recreation director; Jack Roberts, his assistant; John Clausen from the Township Garage across the street, and pool managers.

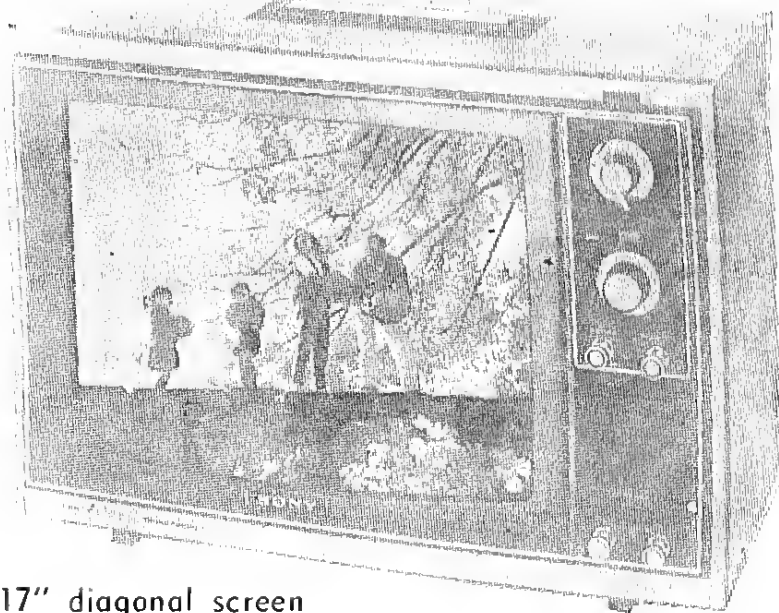

Mr. Tamasi became a "bumper" when government cutbacks eliminated his job as a technician in the Aerospace Department at the Forestal Labs on Route 1. He lives at 74 Maple Street.

ADULT SCHOOL TO EXPAND: The Princeton Adult School will mark its 30th anniversary this fall with a record number of 60-plus classes, to be held both Tuesday and Thursday nights at the high school, starting September 21. Mrs. James Johnson (left), chairman of the school, and Mrs. Albert Markwardt, curriculum chairman, are making final plans for the new term.

He rode ahead but when the woman approached a grassy area, he jumped up, grabbed her and pulled her to the ground. The victim screamed. When lights in the house across the street flicked on, her attacker fled. There was no description.

Ptl. William Potts investigated. Det. Samuel Bianco of the Township police cautioned women against walking the streets late at night, especially in darkened areas.

MAN HAS WALLET STOLEN

While Playing Tennis. For the second week in a row, a man has had his wallet stolen from his car as he played tennis at the Community Park Courts.

William F. Haynes Jr., 23 Pheasant Hill Road, told police that he had parked his car in the lot off John Street at 5:30 last week. He locked it, he said, but left the window on the driver's side open about half an inch. When he returned some 75 minutes later, his wallet containing $12 in cash and credit cards had been stolen from the glove compartment.

Mr. Haynes also lost a gold ring, gold tie clasp and portable tape recorder from the front seat of his car. His total loss: $157.

CAR FAILS TO MAKE TURN

Succeeds in Snapping Pole. A Hightstown driver escaped injury last week when his car failed to make a turn and snapped a pole on Bayard Lane.

Police said that Julius S. Richter, 31, had turned left from Avalon Place onto Bayard when his car jumped the curb and snapped a pole in half. It fell across Bayard Lane, causing traffic to be detoured down Boudinot, Morven and Hodge.

The pole fell across the rear fender and trunk of a car operated by Herman P. Sica of Trenton. Ptl. David Alston ticketed Mr. Richter for careless driving.

THOMPSON HITS CHANGE

In State Welfare Law. Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., Democratic Congressman from this district, has issued a statement attacking the recent changes in New Jersey's welfare laws, recommended by Governor Cahill's welfare reform commission. The changes were described in detail in TOWN TOPICS' cover story last week.

Rep. Thompson's statement follows.

"During the past three weeks my office has been deluged by letters from individuals throughout my Congressional District who have been adversely affected by recent changes in New Jersey's public assistance laws.

These changes, based on the recommendations of Governor Cahill's welfare reform commission, were instituted with the idea of saving the New Jersey taxpayer millions of dollars a year. While they may accomplish this, I am afraid it will be at the cost of increased hardship for our poor and elderly.

"Before New Jersey enacted the Revised State Public Assistance Regulations of 1971, public assistance for rental payments was based on the amount of rent paid by the welfare recipient.

"Thus, within certain controlled parameters, individuals living in housing with relatively high rentals received more than individuals living in lower cost housing. The new regulations, however, institute a flat grant concept for rental payments.

Welfare families receive one total monthly assistance check computed on the basis of the number of individuals in the family, but without regard to the amount of rent paid. The net effect has been a decrease in the total amount the State will spend for welfare rental costs and an estimated savings of perhaps 15 million dollars per year for New Jersey.

"Yet, a savings for the State has meant new problems for New Jersey's poorest families. Many welfare recipients who have written my office — particularly the elderly — find that they now expect to receive monthly assistance checks of as much as 30 per cent less than the previous month. Assuming their rentals will not be any lower, this means that rent money must now come out of money previously put aside for food, medicine, clothing and other necessities.

"Nor do most welfare recipients have the opportunity of shopping around for lower rental housing or of 'bargaining' with their landlords for lower rents. New Jersey is experiencing a low-income housing crisis of monumental proportions. With such a shortage of available housing, and almost no new low-income housing starts planned for the immediate future, 'bargaining' power is with the landlord, not the tenant.

"Furthermore, New Jersey is plagued by an extremely wide range of rental cost, varying from area to area. Within the 4th Congressional District, the typical, average rents for a welfare family of two people may vary by as much as $100.00 a month. The new regulations make no provision for the hardship such variations cause.

"It is particularly galling to learn of these new difficulties just as the House of Representatives has finished working on a welfare reform bill (H.R. 1) which would bring about much needed changes in the Federally-administered portion of the welfare program, as well as a five per cent increase in Social Security benefits.

"When I voted for the Social Security increase, I did not anticipate that my action would be rendered worthless by inequitable changes in State laws.

"I think that a letter from a 78 year old constituent in Sussex County says this all better than I can. I quote in part from her letter: 'My husband and I were happy to get the $16.00 a month more from the Social Security. Now our welfare worker tells us that the State is cutting our money by $16.00 because of that. It that fair?'

"We pay $100.00 a month for rent and the landlord says it is going up to $135.00, but where could we go? Nowhere. We can't get any more money because of new State laws and medicine and food are very expensive. We had to borrow money from my son to eat on, and now we only have $3.00 in the house till the end of the month. Please help us. We worked all our lives and wouldn't ask for the money unless we needed it bad."

ASIAN ART ON VIEW
At Studio-on-the-Canal. An art exhibition featuring paintings by three Japanese artists will open this Sunday and run weekends through Sunday, July 25, 1-4 p.m. at Studio-on-the-Canal, Canal Road.
Water color and sumi works will be displayed by Midori Ishii Ellentuck, daughter of the internationally known artist, Shou-jin Ishii. After studying art with her father in Japan, she came to New Jersey in 1970 to teach Japanese painting.
Ayako Kato Firsing will present works in water colors and oils. Before coming to this country, she studied art under a well-known Japanese master, Yusaku Matsushita and has renewed her studies with Rex Gorleigh of Studio-on-the-Canal.

The program at Nova Scotia will include deep sea fishing in the Bay of Fundy, overnight canoe trip from the base camp, and day trips to lighthouses, forestry towers, and a deserted gold mine.

The trip returns after nine days. Boys who qualified for the trip while participating in the two-week daytime camp preparation included: Peter Stumpf, Scott Smith, David Harris Barnes, Gifford Sauter, Michael De Camillis, Christopher Hayes, Joseph Waters, Christopher Morris, Stephan Hunt, Charles Strange, Robert Rauen, David Hopton, Daniel Alcazar, Thomas Pardee, Montgomery Brower, Jon Baumunk, Tom Walsh, Horace

ECOLOGY in Princeton

There are some inhabitants of our earth whose existence even staunch "maintain-the-balance-naturalists" can't defend; tops on that list stands the mosquito. On that everyone agrees; disagreement comes about how to do away with it without doing away with many things we do need, including, even possibly, children!

To quote the Audubon Nature Encyclopedia: "Mosquito control programs, which were conceived to reduce the incidence of malaria and other insect-borne diseases, sometimes become programs to insure that no one gets bitten. This, of course, is a legitimate objective if a person understands that that is what he is paying for."

Fogging, a method of extermination by widespread spraying from specially equipped trucks, is used in both Princeton Borough and Township. According to one Borough official: "We have not taken action in any direction—we just leave it up to the County to do as they see fit."

Mrs. Marcella Farley, the Township Health Officer, says that the County fogs in her bailiwick (using Malathion and oil) only after she has received requests from individual owners. Both officials believe in the need for and the efficacy of a fogging program.

Among the anti foggers, which now include at least three N.J. Counties, are the Delaware Raritan Tuberculosis & Respiratory Disease Association, the Stony Brook Millstone Watersheds Association, and Professor Daniel Jobbins of the Rutgers Department of Entomology. We quote from the position statement of the first organization:

"In the light of experience gained over the past years and the emergence of more effective methods of mosquito control, the Delaware Raritan TB-RD Association, following careful study, is recommending the discontinuance of the routine fogging procedures presently being carried out in many urban and suburban communities . . . for the following reasons:

- 1) Minimal effectiveness in relation to cost
- 2) Limitation of duration of benefit
- 3) Potential traffic hazard to children and other pedestrians
- 4) Risk of aggravation of respiratory illness

Some elaboration on the above points. Malathion is considered a permissible pesticide because it is non-persistent. However, anyone reading the label warnings against prolonged breathing, repeated contact with skin, etc., can judge for himself the risks of repeated foggings, which are necessary for real effectiveness because the duration of Malathion fogging is so short. (Ian Walker of the Watersheds Association told us he had seen mosquitoes happily and healthily re-enter a fogged area 15 minutes after the fog "lifted"!) Furthermore, there have been periodic accidents to bicycling children following the fogging trucks at dusk (the best fogging time) due to lack of visibility. And, practically speaking, fogging is expensive.

Professor Jobbins, an expert on the subject to the point of having been dubbed "Mr. Mosquito", says that mosquitoes are down 10% of their former numbers, due to work at the breeding grounds, the most important area of combat. SO — all you homeowners who are vacation-bound, please note: check your private mosquito breeding grounds and wipe them out; empty wading pools and anything else that holds potentially stagnant water before you go. Nobody questions that procedure but the mosquitoes!

Some Summer Bewares. Watch Sevin, another permissible pesticide. Not realizing then that it is lethal to honey bees, we used it last year twice on our trees, as recommended. This year we have not seen one honey bee on our grounds and must depend on wasps for pollination, hoping relatives of the honey bees we unwittingly erased will forgive us and return!

Two more to watch out for: 1) Dieldrin, a persistent pesticide that can get absorbed through the skin, used by some dry cleaners in moth-proofing clothes, blankets, etc.; 2) Shell No-Pest Strips, declared by the FDA unsafe where food is being served or prepared (a friend saw some strips picked out of the trash by some little kids and snatched out their hands in the nick of time by a knowledgeable teenager.) Flypapers, though not decorative, still work and are not hazardous.

Environmental Odds & Ends (otherwise known as lazy writing on a hot summer day). Human and dog hair make excellent compost material . . . Cheers for Norell, makers of LESTOIL, who now make it available without Phosphates AND in recyclable glass bottles . . .

Contrary to what some believe, air conditioners do not clean polluted air; they simply cool it and in the long run make the air dirtier because of the high amount of polluting energy it takes to run them. Keep a watchful eye on overuse (too cold, turned on in non-inhabited areas, etc.) particularly in this brown and blackout season . . . Sit tight with your old residual pesticide and poison containers: the N.J. Dept. Of Environmental Protection will supply information on safe disposal this summer — we'll pass it on . . .

Robert Nathan, an East Indian boy who graduated in June from the Middle School, at the end of a speech praising the U.S. and expressing gratitude for the experience of living here, commented politely and gently but heartily: "It moves me when I see the food that is thrown away in the school cafeteria every day and I think of how much the millions of starving people in my country would like to have it to eat."

To us that brought home in one neat package 1) the promotion of persistent pesticides by farmers to "increase the world's food supply", 2) the millions paid annually by our government to farmers not to farm innumerable acres, 3) the unquestioning use-it-and-throw-it-away or don't-use-it-and-throw-it-away outlook of our consumer society.

Re-recycling. According to the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., the 606 lbs. of aluminum collected at the Hospital Fete accounted for about 85% of the soda cans sold that day . . . Next Recycling Day is July 24, 8:30-10:30 (note time change.) No further need for separating tin from bi-metal . . . Requests: please put your car out of gear while unloading . . . please crush aluminum cans. Noting that the number of families at the June 22 recycling were down from the May one, our ecology-minded eleven year old commented: "Maybe they know it's polluting so more families came in a car with other families." Good thinking: Right on!

A PS on the Mosquito Bit. Our son, the naturalist — and our censoring editor — gave an outraged yell when he started reading this copy: "What do you mean 'tops on that list'? Ticks are the top! Birds eat mosquitoes — so do snakes and frogs and dragonflies, them or their larvae. We need mosquitoes!"

We stand corrected. Now, are there any defenders of the tick?

PBA Launches Community Fund Appeal

Rising costs have caught up to the Princeton Policemen's Benevolent Association.

For the past five years, PBA 130, which services both Princetons and West Windsor, has managed, through the generosity of businessmen and private citizens, to fund its youth programs without resorting to a community-wide appeal for financial assistance. But rising costs and an increase in the number of young people participating in PBA activities has changed that.

The PBA needs money — lot's of it. "We need," says Walter V. Emann, solicitation chairman, "1,000 persons who would like to invest $5 or more in the young people of our community. We think an investment in our youth is a good one."

What does the PBA do for young people? It provides Boy Scout Troop 77 with a headquarters and meeting place; sponsors a 10-week junior rifle club for boys and girls 12-17; and sponsors a junior league baseball team, providing uniforms, bats and balls.

Donations, which are tax deductible, may be made to: Princeton Policemen's Benevolent Association, P.O. Box 568, Princeton, N. J.

Young Drivers Will Take to the Road This Fall

The future may hold only the Jersey Turnpike and not Le Mans, but the driver behind the wheel needs skill just the same. Tomorrow's drivers will begin to acquire that skill this September when the new Driver's Ed. classes start at Princeton High School.

Controversy about the way to launch the program is now apparently past. The school board voted on June 15 to start Driver's Ed. this fall, and on June 16, Acting Principal J. Alfred Seitz sent to the state the necessary forms.

The school must have state approval for the course, and teachers must have special training. Mr. Seitz said this week that he's confident of both in time for the first day of school.

Some teachers have already expressed an interest, he said. Candidates will be interviewed and if accepted, will be sent to Trenton State College at school board expense ($62 each for a two-week three-credit course).

Driver's Ed. will be taught after school hours, on Saturdays and during the summer. Teachers selected for the course don't have to be PHS teachers and indeed may even come from outside the Princeton Regional School district, Mr. Seitz said.

Instructors will be paid on the extra pay-for-extra services scale, around $5.66 an hour, not at the regular classroom scale.

In Class and Out. It's not a compulsory course. It will be open to boys and girls who are 16½ years old — mostly juniors, with a few sophomores. Classroom instruction will be offered, as it is now, for a single semester in the sophomore year, and students must have completed this classroom work before they can slide into the driver's seat. It will also be necessary for a student to complete six hours behind the wheel to receive the certificate that will open the door to lower automobile insurance rates. Most estimates place these rates at about 15% below the rates charged when young people have not taken a course like this one.

TOWN TOPICS goes into every home and place of business in Princeton. By their own figures, no other newspaper does half as well.

Road Tests Eliminated. In New Jersey, a driver can't get a license until the 17th birthday, and with successful completion of both classroom and behind-the-wheel instruction, the 17-year-old applicant will not have to go through the state's usual road tests.

Mr. Seitz thinks instructors will probably take three students in a car at one time, two to listen and one to drive behind the wheel. Each lesson will last half an hour.

Cars will be provided by automobile dealers at no cost to the school system except for servicing and repair. Mr. Seitz explained that car manufacturers allow dealers to lend cars on this basis. The cars are usually kept for a year as teaching cars, and then are turned back to the dealers to be sold as used cars.

The school must also buy a second brake pedal ($60), a device which can be transferred from one car to another.

school's admissions standards, fee waiver and financial aid programs, and any fellowship programs for Blacks or other minority groups. The third edition will cover more than 1,200 of the nation's graduate and professional schools.

ETS plans to distribute over 15,000 copies of the book free of charge during the coming academic year to Black, Mexican American, and Puerto Rican students and student organizations, to libraries, and to college and graduate school counselors.

FIVE REACH RETIREMENT At Theological Seminary

Nearly a hundred faculty and staff members gathered in the Campus Center of Princeton Theological Seminary last Wednesday to pay tribute to five members of the staff who were retiring after a combined service of some 90 years.

Mrs. Emma Mertz of Laurel Avenue, Kingston, held the record with 27 years. Mrs. Catherine Murdock of Opossum Road, Skillman, was second, with just under 23. Mrs. Anna P. Miller, also of Laurel Avenue, Kingston, has completed 19 years; Mrs. Anna Kousbrock of Witherspoon Street, 10 years; and Mrs. Impi I. Daniels of Maple Terrace, just under 10 years.

In presenting gifts from the Trustees and Seminary co-workers, President James I. McCord spoke of the retirees' devotion to detail and unstinting work which have contributed greatly to the superior condition of the Seminary buildings. He praised also the continuing efforts of Thomas W. Brian, Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings.

Quoting from a letter by Dr. Hugh T. Kerr, Benjamin B. Warfield Professor of Systematic Theology, Dr. McCord pointed out that Princeton Seminary is justly famed for the beauty and maintenance of its buildings, grounds and plantings. Dr. Kerr's research during a recent sabbatical leave has taken him on a tour of seminary campuses around the country.

The retirements of Mmes. Daniels, Kousbrock, Mertz and Murdock were effective on June 30. Mrs. Miller will remain with the Seminary until July 31.

REGISTER TO VOTE

Sayen Urges 18-Year-Olds. W. Harry Sayen of Princeton, Republican County Chairman, has issued a statement calling for all 18-year-olds to register for the coming elections. When Ohio became the 38th state to ratify the 26th amendment, it became possible for 18-year-olds to vote on the local as well as the national or federal level.

"I beg all 18-year-olds to register," he said. "I beg them to join the party of their choice and become active. In this way only can we make the two-party system once again responsive."

"In the past most adults have not participated in the political parties and as a result our political way of life has suffered badly. We must have full participation of all citizens if the integrity of political office is to be upheld."

POSTAL LAW REAFFIRMED
For Protection from Smut Mail. The Princeton Post Office has reminded customers that a new program is available to provide protection from unsolicited mailings of sexually oriented advertisements.

As part of the Postal Reorganization Act effective since February 1, the law allows an individual to ask the Postal Service for himself and for his children that he not receive such material from any source.

According to Princeton Postmaster John L. Dilworth, once a person's name has been given to the Postal Service, the prohibition becomes effective after 30 days, and a mailer cannot send any sexually-oriented ads to him. This service is available to anyone, including those who have never received such material.

ART LESSONS BEGIN

At Artist Shack. Summer schedules for art lessons have begun at Pennytown Shopping Village's Artist Shack. Classes in various areas of contemporary crafts work are being offered throughout the summer.

In classes of one or two sessions, Mrs. Geri Kimble of Princeton will direct the creation and application of repousse decoration, gold leaf work and decoupage. Leslie Bird will teach similar two-hour single or double sessions in photo and print transfer art and creation of three-dimensional embossed paper pictures.

More extensive courses in a young adult program given weekday mornings and afternoons include basic decoupage taught by Mrs. Kimble, contemporary decoupage by Mrs. Jean Owens, macramé taught by Kathy Owens, and china painting by Marilyn Wittlinger. Schedules and additional details may be obtained by visiting the Artist Shack on Route 31 in Pennington or by calling 466-2616.

PIANO WORKSHOP SET

To Start July 22. A one-week workshop, Piano Teaching in Action, will be presented by the National Keyboard Arts Associates of Princeton beginning July 22 on the Westminster Choir College campus. It is open to beginning piano students as well as advanced, and their teachers.

Richard Chronister, educational director of National Keyboard Arts Associates, will demonstrate the Keyboard Arts plan for developing musical literacy in young piano students. Children currently enrolled in classes taught by licensed Keyboard Arts teachers will provide demonstration study groups.

Mr. Chronister, before joining Keyboard Arts, was on the faculty of the University of Tulsa, where he developed and directed the only comprehensive degree program in piano pedagogy to be approved by the National Association of Schools of Music.

David Kraehenbuehl, executive director of National Keyboard Arts, and composer of much of the music included in the Keyboard Arts programs, will demonstrate the teaching of style and performance using selected intermediate and advanced students. These demonstrations will be part of performance classes that are open to a limited number of students 12 years of age and older.

Evening sessions will be devoted to recitals and discussions groups. Occurring simultaneously with the workshop will be an orientation for licensed Keyboard Arts teachers. For further information write: Piano Teaching in Action, National Keyboard Arts Associates, University Park, Princeton.

PEOPLE In The News

Dr. William R. Schowalter, 106 Crestview Drive, Professor of Chemical Engineering at Princeton University, has received a national award given annually for "outstanding achievements in fundamental chemical engineering theory and practice" at the annual meeting of the American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE). The $1000 honor is the Lectureship Award of the ASEE's Chemical Engineering Division.

Dr. Schowalter, a member of the Princeton School of Engineering and Applied Science faculty since 1957, was cited as "the unique combination of creative experimentalist and incisive theoretician who is able to illuminate the mysteries of nature and to utilize them in the best engineering sense."

At Princeton Dr. Schowalter leads a research program which deals with the theoretical and experimental aspects of fluid mechanics, especially as applied to rheologically complex materials: fluids such as solutions of polymers, polymer melts and suspensions.

He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin (B.S., 1951) and the University of Illinois (M.S. 1953, Ph.D. 1957). Last semester he was acting chairman of Princeton's Department of Chemical Engineering.

Professor Fritz Machlup, 279 Ridgeview Road one of the nation's best-known economists, who is retiring this month from the Princeton University Faculty after serving for 11 years as Walker Professor of Economics and International Finance and Director of the International Finance Section, has been singled out for two major honors.

The University of Vienna, where he received his early training and in 1923 earned the degree of Dr. Rer. Pol., has elected him an Honorary Senator of the University. The award was presented to Professor Machlup, a native of Austria and a naturalized American citizen since 1949, at an academic ceremony held on June 17.

Two days before returning to Vienna, and immediately after he had addressed the June 15th Triennial Meeting of the International Association of University Presidents held in Monrovia, Liberia, he was made a Commander of the Star of Africa, with President Tubman of the Republic of Liberia presenting the medals that symbolize this distinction.

Leon B. Poullada, 40 Princeton Avenue, will leave his present post as United States Director and Secretary of the American Research Center in Egypt (ARCE) on June 30 to assume the position of Professor in Political Science and Distinguished University Lecturer at Northern Arizona University.

He has also been, since 1969, on the faculty of the Near Eastern Studies Department of Princeton University, from which he received the Ph.D. degree in 1970.

Princeton University, which is represented on the ARCE Board of Governors by Professor Morroe Berger, 72 Clover Lane, Chairman of the Council on International and Regional Studies and Chairman of the ARCE Grants Committee, was host recently to a meeting of the Board.

The Governors named Mrs. Lily M. Brown, 110 Dodds Lane, to succeed Mr. Poullada as U.S. Director. Professor Leon Carl Brown, 191 Hartley Avenue, Chairman of the Department of Near Eastern Studies at Princeton University was elected Interim Secretary by the ARCE Executive Committee.

The American Research Center in Egypt is a consortium of American and Canadian universities and museums which was originally established in 1948 as a private non-profit organization to promote American archaeological work there.

Richard N. Van Zandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Van Zandt of Blawenburg, is participating in a U.S. Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps (AFROTC) field training encampment at Pease AFB, N. H. During the encampment, cadets become familiar with the life and activities on Air Force bases and can examine career opportunities in which they might wish to serve as officers.

Cadet Van Zandt is a member of the AFROTC unit at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa. He is a 1969 graduate of Princeton High School.

Navy Petty Officer First Class Lars Christiansen Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Christiansen, 922 Alexander Road, is aboard the aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga in the Western Pacific taking part in a joint U.S.-Japanese anti-submarine warfare exercise off the coast of Japan.

A master's degree was awarded to Wilbur E. Hines in June by the University of Pittsburgh. The son of Mrs. Frankie Hines of 200 John Street, he is a graduate of Princeton High School and Duquesne University and is employed as an accountant by the First National Bank of Pittsburgh. He was an outstanding basketball player at PHS and at Duquesne, where he was co-captain of the Duquesne team.

Dr. Irvin M. Glassman, professor of Aerospace Sciences in Princeton University's School of Engineering and Applied Science, has been elected chairman of a North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) technical panel concerned with advances and problems in aerospace propulsion. Under Dr. Glassman's leadership, the panel will conduct a survey among NATO member nations of advances being made in aircraft fire safety research, and in control of atmospheric pollution by aircraft engines and fuels.

Dr. Glassman was also named last month to a National Academy of Sciences—National Academy of Engineering Committee on Motor Vehicle Emissions. The committee will examine the automobile industry's ability to meet automobile exhaust emission standards established by the U. S. Congress.

Edward G. Benson, Jr., whose late parents were residents of Princeton for many years, received his Ph.D. in French at Brown University's commencement exercises in June. Mr. Benson is an alumnus of Princeton Country Day School and is a member of the Class of 1963 at Princeton.

Beverly A. Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto T. Young Jr., 142 Washington Street, Rocky Hill, one of the last students from the sending district to graduate from Princeton High School, will attend Oglethorpe College in Atlanta, Georgia this fall. Miss Young was a Gold Key recipient at PHS.

Dr. Herbert E. Alexander, 152 Clover Lane, director of the Citizens' Research Foundation since 1958, has published a study of the political financial operations of the most recent presidential campaign. "Financing the 1968 Election" covers a comprehensive analysis of where the money came from and how it was spent in one of the closest presidential elections in history.

Dr. Alexander spent more than two-and-a-half years obtaining information for the report. Though some of the financial figures were available to voters before making their choices, in his more detailed account of campaign expenditures, the author attempts to probe facts which could aid in changes of structure in political finance.

Benjamin Hart Jr., Blackwell Road, Pennington, was named the Mercer District's outstanding landowner-cooperator of the year in the 25th annual New Jersey - Delaware area competition for the Good-year Conservation Awards.

Mark R. Abrams, 44 Armour Road, has received his B.A. from Goddard College, Plainfield, Vt.

The Perth Amboy resident termed the trials, conducted under the discerning eye of Don Haskins, coach of the University of Texas at El Paso, as "the toughest sports experience of my life." Especially hard was the adjustment to the "thin air" at Colorado Springs, according to Taylor, but the Princeton junior felt it was "well worth it." "WHY SHOULD HE BE ANY DIFFERENT?" asks Ken Wible in commenting on the Supreme Court's reversing of Muhammad Ali's draft-evasion conviction. "I think he should have gone; a lot of people in sports went," he added.

Question Of The Week

Question: What is your reaction to the Supreme Court's 8-0 vote overturning Muhammad Ali's (Cassius Clay's) draft-evasion conviction?

Where asked: Around town.

Ken Wible, 6 Humbert Lane, clerk, Nassau Market: I think he should have gone. A lot of people in sports went; why should he be any different? What's fair for one is fair for all. Why should ministers be exempt? There are a lot of priests in the Army. In my opinion, they can help our boys over there by keeping up their morale.

Vernon Hoagland, 22 Clay Street: I'm for it 100 percent! It was a big mistake, an outrageous mistake. The court proved that. A man is innocent until he's proven guilty. I don't like anyone to be a slacker but this is an undeclared war. That's the point. And the man has declared himself a Muslim priest. They were just trying to close Clay's mouth.

Dave Slater, Route 1, employee of Urken's Supply Company: If this war were like World War II, he should be shot; he should be fighting. But it's not. If he is a proven minister and it's against his religion to fight, then that's what the law allows. It should apply to Clay as much as anybody. What's good for one is good for all.

George Sweeney, Hightstown employee of East Windsor Township: If you're drafted, you're drafted. I served my 18 months in Vietnam... why can't he? I didn't want to go either but I went. I don't care how much a man is making or how famous he is, why should he be any different from anyone else? It doesn't make sense. That's the trouble with the United States today: everybody wants to see what the other guy does before he decides to do anything. It can't be that way. If Clay loved his country, he should have been over there. All Clay was out for was to see what way he could get out. He got a smart lawyer and got out.

Ralph Quick Jefferson Road, movie projectionist: It's a good deal. I think it was just. He's a muslim minister and the deferment he was seeking as a minister was granted to a lot of guys. I think he's loud and has a big mouth but Clay is smart. You have to give him credit.

Calvin Favers, recent graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary: I think it was an excellent decision. I have a 4D classification as a seminary student and I don't think the government should discriminate against non-Christian or non-Jewish ministers. Seems inconsistent to me. What's fair for one should be fair for all. Also, I think Clay as a black man should have an option not to fight. It seems inconsistent to have to serve in the armed forces of a country where he is not free.

Edward Korytowski, Morrisville, Pa., student Princeton Computer Institute: I think he should have gone. I don't think he should have had any special privileges. I think he dug up that Muslim priest bit just to get out of it.

Curtis Eggbert Lawrenceville bicycle repairman for Tiger Auto: I don't think it's right. I don't see how they could let him go. If he can get out, why can't I?

Ronnie Tocco, 406 Terhune Road, contractor's assistant: I can see his point — if he is really and sincerely religious. I wouldn't want to go any more than he does. I don't see any point to the war, anyway, so I approve of the court's action.

Michael Fuschini, Birch Avenue bus driver for Tenacre. It's the best thing that could have happened. My feeling about the war is the same as his, though our religions aren't the same. If someone took my job for doing what he did, I would want the same thing. Even though Frazier beat him — and I was rooting for Frazier just because he's from Philadelphia — I still think Clay is the best fighter I ever saw.

William Ward, Ewing Township, janitor for Princeton University: I think they were right. I think they were being unfair in not letting him box while his case dragged through the courts. A man is entitled to work until he is found innocent or guilty. He lost a lot of money in that time — what was it: three and a-half years? The government lost even more in taxes.

Joseph LeBlanc, Lawrence Township, Electronics service engineer and teacher: We've got to abide by our democratic process. If that was the finding of the Court, then I approve of their decision. I've seen a lot of governments and how many people live — my job has taken me to 47 states and 26 countries — and I still haven't found anything better than the United States.

Mrs. James Faus, Cherry Hill Road, co owner of Gallery 100: I think it was unjust. He hasn't proven himself to me that he is a conscientious objector. Certainly he made enough money when he was fighting and could have been serving his country. He turned a pretty penny. It was not fair to those men and COs who were willing to enter the service and work in hospitals or some other capacity. He took the easy way out; he solved his problem in a much easier way... probably because of his popular appeal and most of us don't have that to trade on.

accomplishment this year will give him an advantage when the 1972 tryouts are held.

First stop on the road to Cali is Oral Roberts University in Tulsa, Okla., where the U.S. squad will train for ten days and play an exhibition game against the Denver Rockets of the American Basketball Association. The squad moves to Vancouver, B. C., on July 16 for tournament competition against several national teams, then goes to Miami for the last leg of the pre-Pan Am activity. From July 20-26, the American team will get its final polishing prior to flying to Colombia.

Named Sophomore of the Year by the Ivy Coaches after placing second in the league with 341 points in 14 games, Taylor hit for a season average of 23.5 to become the second Princetonian to top 500 in his sophomore year. His 563 markers are topped only by the 682 recorded by Bill Bradley in his first year on the varsity (1963).

A graduate of Perth Amboy High School where he was accorded All-American honors, Taylor is the brother of cornerback Bruce Taylor whose remarkable rookie season helped the San Francisco Forty Niners to their first divisional title in last year's NFL race.

WINNERS NAMED
In Husband-Wife Tourney.
Winners of the Husband-Wife Tournament at the Pike Brook Country Club last week were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Weinstock.

Mr. and Mrs. William Merigan were second, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fuchs, third. Closest to the pin were Mrs. Fuchs and William Donnelly. Mrs. Thomas Reilly and Howard Maher were closest to line. Mrs. William Geoghan was the winner of the Twilight Tournament of the Women's Nine Hole Group. Mrs. Weinstock finished second, Mrs. Reilly third and Mrs. Thomas Kennecally, fourth.

NASSAU SWIMMERS WIN
166-68 at Flemington. The Nassau Swim Club, one of 12 teams comprising the newly-formed Princeton Area Swimming and Diving Association, won its first meet of the season last week, when it defeated the Valley Club at Flemington, 166-68. The Nassau Swim Club is the only Princeton team in the league.

Swimmers who won two individual events and were also on winning relays were Tom Bolster, Mary Bolster, Carrie Bolster and Carrie Kidd. Tom won the boys' 10 and under-25-yard butterfly and breaststroke. He then combined with Marc Coutin, Scott Kelley and Bill Hunt to capture the 100-yard freestyle relay.

Mary won the 12 and under 50-yard butterfly and 100-yard individual medley. She teamed with Jane Bolster, Amy Fox, and Heidi Dobrott to win the 100-yard free relay. Sister Carrie won the same two events in the 17 and under class, joining Lise Kauzmann, Bambi Hendel and Carrie Kidd to win the 200-yard free relay.

Carrie Kidd triumphed in the 50-yard breaststroke and diving event. Other winners were Vat Van Horn, girls' 8 and under backstroke; Tory Garvey, girls' 8 and under freestyle; Amy Joyce, 50-yard breaststroke and Ann Joyce diving—both in the 12 and under class. Amy Fox won the 25-yard freestyle for girls 10 and under.

Andy Bolster captured first place in the 100-yard individual medley for boys 17 and under. He then teamed with Jim Bolster, Eric Kausmann and Peter Coutin to win the 200-yard freestyle relay.

GIANTS SEEK .500 MARK
In Series with Eagles Here. Alex Webster's much improved New York Giant football team hopes to even the New Jersey Jaycee Football Classic series on Saturday, August 28, in Palmer Stadium.

With "Big Red" starting his first full season as head coach last year, a re-vitalized New York team produced a lopsided 27-7 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles. The former North Carolina State All-America and Giant player had appeared in the first three classics which the New Yorkers captured.

The 1970 triumph broke a five-game Philadelphia string and cut the Eagles series edge to 5-4. Webster's squad would like nothing better than to make it two straight victories as the classic enters its tenth year.

Tickets, priced at $8, $6 and $4, are available from the New Jersey Jaycee Football Classic, P.O. Box 462, Princeton. Jaycee efforts over the past nine years have produced

LEAD CHANGES HANDS

In Babe Ruth Baseball, Harbort Air Freight scored a 3-1 victory over Lucar Hardware last week in the West Windsor Babe Ruth League to snap Lucar's six-game winning streak.

Harbort pitcher Greg Christensen picked up his fourth straight win as he limited Lucar to one hit, a single by losing pitcher Gary Fowler. Lucar had four hits in the closely-contested game, singles by Christensen, Bob Zinsmeister, David Kodner and David Duncan.

Harbort added another victory later in the week to remain undefeated in the second half of league play. Bob Zinsmeister was on the mound as Harbort defeated the Lions Club, 4-1.

All four runs came in the second inning as Christensen, Duncan and Kodner singled to drive in runs. Duncan later hit a double and Kodner a triple.

Lucar snapped back in its next game with an 8-1 win over Will's Shell, as Joey Czeslowski pitched his fourth victory of the season. Jim Mellor supplied the power for Lucar as he drove in most of the runs with a homer and two doubles.

In the final game of the week, the Lions edged Will's, 3-2, in eight innings, with pit-

RED, BLUE WIN AGAIN

In Summer Lacrosse, Red and Blue won their games last week in the summer lacrosse league at Marquand Park to remain even with 2-0 records.

Phil Mathews scored four goals and Coley Donaldson added three more to lead Blue past Green, 9-4. Mark Rosso and Reilly Steele added single goals for the victors. Bob Cooper, Tony Reish, Chris Bruckner and Noel Belli each scored for the losers.

Mike Skinner, three goals, and Mark Cleary and Pat Connelly, two each, were instrumental in Red's shading of Navy, 8-7. Joe Belli added another. For Green, John Steiger was the leading scorer with three; Pete Lamken had two, and Mike Ledderman and Steve Zamer, one each.

CHANGES ANNOUNCED

At Pennington School. The Pennington School for Boys

has announced the naming of James J. Feijo as acting athletic director and head football and wrestling coach, replacing John S. Biddiscombe, athletic director since September 1969.

Feijo, 24, has been assistant to the athletic director since September 1970. He also was assistant football and wrestling coach and head field coach. A native of Fall River, Massachusetts, Feijo received his undergraduate degree from Springfield College and has done graduate work at Trenton State.

Biddiscombe has accepted the position of head wrestling coach and assistant football coach at Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pa., and will assume his new duties in September.

THORNE'S TAKES TWO

In Youth Baseball Action.

The Thorne Pharmacy won a pair of games last week in the Senior Division of the Youth Baseball Association, outlasting Princeton Bank and Trust, 12 to 11, after it had topped New York Life, 7 to 4.

Steve O'Neill was the winner over New York Life as he went the distance for the second time this season. Tom Stanga was the losing hurler. Three hits by Pete Neuwerth paced the victors' attack, while extra base blows were credited to Andy Alexander of Thorne's and Pete Soderman of N. Y. Life.

The PBA nine won twice from N. Y. Life, 7-6 and 7-4, the latter the completion of a tie game. Bob McHugh was the winning pitcher in both contests. In the 7-6 game, PBA was trailing until the last of the seventh, when Dave Harwood hit a homer. Jamie Petrone and John Mooney doubled and McHugh hit a triple. Dave Walker and Steve Kopp each hit safely twice for New York Life.

Princeton Bank broke into the winning column with a 2-0 shutout of PBA. Bob King was the winner. John Mooney the losing pitcher.

In Junior Division play, Engine Co. No. 1 was the only team to win twice, topping Engine Co. No. 3, 10 to 1, and the Eagles, 6 to 4. Tom Moore (2-0) fanned four in picking up the victory while Morgan Morham and Jim LaPlaca both hit triples while going two for four. For the losers, Mike Shillaber was two for three including a triple.

In the victory over the Eagles, Ed Frick was No. 1's winning pitcher, fanning ten while yielding only two hits. Dana Nini struck out eight but gave up seven hits while pitching for the Eagles.

Roma Eterna trounced the Elks, 13 to 4, behind John Boccanfuso's six-hitter and seven strikeouts. Tom Hagadorn with a homer and Dudley Fitzpatrick with a triple both hit safely twice for the winners, while Tony Operman had three hits, one of them a homer, for the Elks.

The Eagles blasted the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club, 17 to 1, as John Silverman won his second. Joe Herrmann was three for three and Jim McCarthy two for four to lead the Eagles. Bruce Perna hit a single and a double for the Sportsmen.

Legion Post 76 defeated Hook and Ladder, 12 to 8, Paul Soderman striking out 11 and helping on the attack with a single and triple. Ken Bartolino, Mark Taylor and Scott Trani also hit safely twice.

Engine Co. No. 3 broke even for the week when it edged Roma Eterna, 3 to 2. Mike Shillaber and Tom Hagadorn were the winning and losing pitchers as Mike Boonin's double in the last inning scored the winning run for the firemen.

Other action saw Hook and Ladder turn back the Sportsmen, 7 to 2, and Post 76 and the Elks play to a 4-4 tie. The latter game will be finished at a later date.

IVY INN EDGES CONTE'S
For Softball Lead. Ivy Inn won its battle for first place with Conte's Bar last week, when it edged the defending champions, 9-7, in eight innings.

In other games, The Country Squire defeated Nassau-Conover Motors, 5-3, and Varsity Sport Shop scored seven runs in the sixth inning to upset Teague & Hinds, 10-8.

Ivy Inn captured its showdown with Conte's in the first extra inning when, with one down, Alby Toto singled, Bill Bartolino singled and both advanced on Doug Watson's fly to center. Toto then scored the winning run after Bob Pazdan dribbled one down the third base line off the end of his bat and beat it out. Richie Volz, up next, knocked in Bartolino with an insurance run. Dave Britton got the win.

Conte's had jumped to a 4-0 lead in the first inning. The big blow was Brian Henninger's two-run triple with two out. It held up for only one inning, however, as Ivy bounced right back in the second with four runs on hits by Rick Hagadorn, Toto, Bartolino and Watson.

The Barmen went ahead in the fifth and held it until the seventh when Conte's tied it again at 7-all. Wes Cawley of BATTING OVER 500: Tony Pirone of first-place Ivy Inn in the Princeton Softball League was hitting the ball last week at a .565 clip.

Conte's had the game's only homer.

The Country Squire went over the 500 mark when it bunched four of its five runs in the second for its win over last-place Nassau-Conover.

Rick Embley and Pete Ferrara each collected two hits for the Squires, while winning pitcher Chris Hagadorn aided his own cause by getting a hit and scoring a run in that second-inning uprising.

Varsity Sport Shop's shocker over Teague & Hinds was the latter's third setback in four games. Teague had led the league earlier by winning its first four in a row.

Jerry Perpetua homered with a man on in the first and Bix Kroener and Dan Corvino each rapped a pair of hits to pace Varsity. Still, going into the sixth the Icemen owned a 8-3 lead, thanks in part to Steve McLain's three hits.

After scoring seven runs on nine hits in the sixth, Varsity managed to keep Teague's at bay with some fine defensive play. It fashioned three double plays in the game.

The standings:

| | W. | L. | Pct. |
|----------|----|----|------|
| Ivy Inn | 7 | 1 | .875 |
| Conte's | 6 | 2 | .750 |
| Teague's | 5 | 3 | .625 |
| Squires | 4 | 3 | .571 |
| Hustlers | 2 | 5 | .286 |
| Varsity | 2 | 6 | .250 |
| Conover | 1 | 7 | .125 |

LEADERS ALL WIN
In Business Softball League. Nothing changed in the Business Softball League last week as the three top teams in each division all defeated the lower three. McGraw-Hill, thus, retained its one-game edge over Educational Testing in the east, and Cities Service, RCA Astro and RCA A remained tied for first in the west.

While McGraw-Hill dropped IDA, 10-5, ETS sent Shearer Tree to its 10th loss in a row, 10-6. The score was tied, 5-5, as late as the fourth inning, when winning pitcher Chris Wynings hit a home run that put ETS in front to stay.

Wynings also had two other homers, Joel High and Ed Willis had six hits between — Continued on Next Page

MAYME MEAD TO CLOSE

After 25 Years. The red-carpeted Mayme Mead dress shop on the second floor at 194 Nassau will close this month, the owner Mrs. Virginia King, has announced. Her "Retirement Sale" began on Monday, marking the end of 25 years on Nassau Street.

"It's really a problem I've had with my legs," Mrs. King said Tuesday. "The doctor says I have to get off my feet."

Her shop, with its classic clothes by Vera Maxwell, Davidow, Tanner and others, was once a link in a chain of three stores in Scarsdale and Bronxville, operated by Mrs. King's sisters, one of whom was Mayme Mead. The other shops closed due to death and illness, with the Princeton shop going on alone for the past ten years.

It has been a highly personal business, with close understanding between Mrs. King and her customers. Several of the manufacturers who supply the shop have suggested buying the shop, she says, "but it would mean that I would have to stay on for about a year—and I can't do that."

Thinking of the Nassau Street dress shops that have closed in the past several years — Elise Goupil, The French Shop, Betty Wright and others — she adds, "Princeton is changing."

TENNIS TOURNEY WON

By Shuren and Zuccarello. Sam Shuren and Tony Zuccarello have won the West Windsor Recreation Department Spring Doubles Tennis League Championship with a three set victory over Percy Banks and Jim Payne. The scores were 7-5, 2-6 and 6-2.

Zuccarello, had originally played in the 5:45 league with John Macdonald. Macdonald had to go to England and Zuccarello a berth in the finals by playing with Kevin Little and defeating the Rev. Walter Carvin and Vic Payne. Little then left for Ohio and Zuccarello won a berth in the finals by playing with Kevin Little. Shuren. They won the final match.

Banks and Payne had advanced to the finals by defeating the 6:45 league first place finishers. The Rev. Norm Nuding and Arnold Kitz. They lost the first set 4-6 but came back strong to win the last two sets 6-4, 6-4.

With the completion of the Spring League, the Summer League begins on July 6th. Any West Windsor wishing to play may do so by contacting Jim Shea, 16 Manor Avenue, Penns Neck or by calling 452-2044.

For AAU Junior Olympics. Lindsay Blattner and Karen Herzog, two standouts on the Princeton High School girls' track team, (Lindsay was captain) have qualified to represent the New Jersey Association of the AAU in the Regional Championships to be held July 17 in Buffalo.

Miss Blattner qualified in the senior division of the half-mile with a clocking of 2:38. Running in the intermediate division because of her age, Miss Herzog not only won the 80-yard hurdles but topped the best time of the senior division by a full second. Both girls qualified at the New Jersey Junior Olympics held June 26.

NET OF 134 WINS

Claire Masick and Kay Conover were a stroke behind. Third place went to Betty Sheeran and Jan Hollister with 136.

EAST DEFEATS WEST

In BSL All-Star Game. Players of the eastern and western division of the Business Softball League met last week in the league's first all-star game with the east all-stars winning, 15-8.

The east jumped off to a six-run lead in the first inning, which held up for the three frames that starting pitcher Tom Wood of McGraw-Hill worked. However, in the fourth the west pushed across its first tally, and then scored seven in the fifth to take an 8-6 lead.

The east staged another vigorous rally in the sixth, however, collecting eight runs, and put the game out of reach. Jack Bartow shut out the west over the final three innings, while Bob Oehrle gave up only one run in the three innings he worked for the west.

Tom Wunderlich had three hits and two RBIs for the east, Willie Lane, Walt Bullock and Willy Wicker had two hits apiece and Willie Turner and Bob Nielson had two RBIs each. Nielson was the winning pitcher.

For the west, Bob Pagano had three hits and Bob Heinz, Bill Swanhart, John Meyer and Don Pultorak had two apiece. Meyer had a home run and Swanhart blasted a triple.

Sociologist Asks: Will Government Decide Sex of Our Children?

Genetic engineering, a topic that stirs great debate about the future of the human race.

When science, in the years to come, perfects the various techniques for manipulating man's biochemically-based inheritance, how society uses the knowledge may have profound consequences. What would happen, for example, if we could choose our children's sex, physical characteristics, intellectual capacity? Or should such choices be delegated to others — the government, perhaps?

The consequences of such choices, now only dimly perceived, cause great concern among many today. But some comfort is usually found in the common assumption that, before scientists make genetic engineering a reality, others — philosophers and statesmen — still have the time to prepare for the potential trouble areas.

There may not be as much time for leisurely preparation as we believe, cautions Princeton University sociologist James R. Sorenson, who is studying the uses to which existing knowledge of human genetics is put.

Subtle Campaign Seen. The reason why time may be fast running out? Genetic counseling centers, multiplying across the country, may already be subtly shaping public policy for the uses of genetics, Dr. Sorenson, an Assistant Professor of Sociology here, main tains.

Genetic counseling centers — clinics which advise prospective parents on the likely genetic "health" of their offspring — are growing rapidly, Dr. Sorenson points out, because of two newly approved medical practices: legalized abortion (in some states) and amniocentesis.

Amniocentesis is the technique of extracting fluid from the uterus of the pregnant woman, and analyzing the cells of the fetus which the fluid contains. All the major chromosomal defects and about 20 genetic defects — including such relatively common hereditary diseases as mongolism, Tay-Sachs disease and phenyl ketonuria (PKU) — can now be detected by such analysis, and the list is growing swiftly.

When fetal abnormalities are detected by amniocentesis, abortion can terminate the pregnancy — if parents, state and doctor allow. Thus, Dr. Sorenson points out, genetic counseling has changed from a passive role of calculating the odds of genetic defects in offspring to an active role which could turn "population quality control" into an issue of the 1970s.

Survey Undertaken. For more than a year now, Dr. Sorenson has been conducting a preliminary survey to determine how much is known about current practices in medical genetics, and to pinpoint the social, ethical, legal and economic issues that the practices may be raising.

Those who question man's ability, even with careful planning, to use genetic engineering techniques wisely may be troubled by Dr. Sorenson's early general finding, as summarized in a monograph being readied for publication by the Russell Sage Foundation: "Knowledge is being applied and precedents are being set that will shape the use of future discoveries," he warns.

In the article, which intentionally raises more questions than it answers, Dr. Sorenson contends that "more systematically gathered knowledge is needed" right now concerning the people, philosophies and practices associated with genetic counseling centers. With a planning grant of $21,260 from the Russell Sage Foundation, he is now beginning a two-year search for the answers to some of those questions.

The answers, he believes, will help "to construct a framework for serious discussion of man's genetic future — a framework that will incorporate not just what can be done technologically, but also what is feasible and desirable within the constraints of law, religion, philosophy and economics."

Rapid Growth Likely. According to the 28-year-old sociologist, the number of genetic counseling centers in this country has grown from about a dozen in the early 1950s to about 250 today. "With mounting discoveries and increased need and demand for counseling, the growth in the near future should be equally great," he says.

Further growth is assured, he notes, because "the medical rationale for using genetic knowledge is increasing. With the control of infectious disease, the proportion of genetic-based diseases in the population is increasing.

"Man, in eliminating many major disease threats in his environment, has found that imperfections or peculiarities in his own genetic constitution are now coming to be major health problems. This factor will certainly operate to increase the demand for early and extensive application of genetic knowledge of human populations, both by professional medical groups and the public," Dr. Sorenson continues.

At present, he has found, most genetic counseling centers are attached to medical schools, and may be staffed by either research scientists or medical doctors. The services are used typically by middle-class parents who want to avoid the recurrence of a genetic defect that has already manifested itself in the family either in an earlier child, in the parents, or among their relatives.

After surveying all the existing scientific, philosophical and sociological literature on medical genetics, Dr. Sorenson has identified six areas in which more systematic knowledge is badly needed:

- The social organization of medical genetics: that is, the relationship between the organization of counseling centers and their effectiveness;
- The training, beliefs and practices of the genetic counselors;
- The attitudes and behavior of the clients of counseling centers;
- The legal implications of applying genetic knowledge to human populations;
- The economic costs and consequences of decisions based on knowledge of medical genetics;
- The ethical and moral problems intimately related to the use of medical genetics.

Questions Posed. As Dr. Sorenson begins a more exhaustive study of current practices in medical genetics, he has identified scores of questions whose answers should help scientists, statesmen and philosophers deal with the more complex questions still to arise when advanced genetic engineering techniques — gene surgery, gene manipulation and cloning — are developed. Among the questions set forth in preparing the Russell Sage monography:

"Do current training and professional values encourage concern of gynecologists and obstetricians with the genetic health of parents and infants?"

"Who refers to counselors most frequently: obstetricians, gynecologists, or pediatricians?"

"How do the research interests of a counselor affect the nature and scope of his counseling? Does he accept clients only on the basis of his research interests? If so, does he perceive them as people to be studied rather than people to be counseled?"

"To what extent do counselors discuss the special significance of a given disorder with patients? Do they discuss the medical complications of a disease?"

"What types of information do clients request? What guilt or shame reactions do they have about carrying a genetic defect . . . ?"

"How large a risk is too large? How important is the physical and social nature of the disease in affecting decisions? What impact do previous births of normal or abnormal children have on future decisions?"

"What are the costs of various types of defects? To what extent should states be financially responsible for the economic burden of genetic defects, given that most states do not yet permit abortion of a fetus on the ground that it will be abnormal, even if the parents so desire?"

"To what extent are current medical genetic programs covered by established medical insurance programs?"

"What will be the financial costs for establishing requisite technical facilities to institute large-scale medical genetic programs?"

"What professional and social conditions give rise to the application of the term 'disease' to a particular genetic problem, and under what conditions will a genetic disorder be ignored? . . . What are the social and psychological processes involved in this labelling process, and what groups in society — scientist, laymen, medical professional, or legal experts — will perform primary roles in this defining process?"

WILLIAMS SEEKS BAN

On Ocean Dumping. United States Sen. Harrison A. Williams, Jr. (D-N.J.) has announced that he has asked the Senate Public Works Committee to consider legislation which would immediately ban the ocean dumping of toxic materials, sludge which is not in a stabilized or uncontaminated state and other substances which could harm marine life.

Sen. Williams, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, urged the action in a letter to Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-W. Va.) Chairman of the Public Works Committee. The New Jersey Senator is the author of pending legislation which would severely restrict dumping.

"However, it is apparent that the pollution control legislation that the committee now is considering will be reported out first," he declared. "I would like to see that legislation shaped so as to prevent the disastrous contamination of our ocean waters by dumping."

Sen. Williams also asked that matching funds be provided to local government agencies to help pay for increased costs that might result from the ban on dumping.

"A Bitter Future." The Senator noted that "a bitter future lies ahead if we continue to view our oceans as liquid garbage dumps. Needless to say, the bright promise of the Gateway National Recreation Area will be all but destroyed if the waters washing it are unusable."

In his letter he also pointed out that "We in New Jersey are perhaps more keenly aware of the need for immediate action with respect to the oceans than in other areas, for in our economy tourism is the largest industry in the state, exceeding two billion dollars annually. Its decline would be a staggering blow."

The specific items which Sen. Williams asked the committee to consider are:

1. An immediate ban on the dumping of all toxic substances, including such destructive agents as high-level radioactive wastes and chemical-biological warfare agents.
2. An immediate ban on all dumping or discharge of all sludge which is not in the stabilized and uncontaminated state.

3. An immediate ban on the dumping of all other substances in those areas where either shell fishing, game fishing, commercial fishing, or bathing might be affected, or from

CAMPAIGN BEGUN
By Church Youth. Twenty-eight college students who believe Jesus has something to say to this generation are participating in a three-week "Campaign for Christ," sponsored by Princeton Church of Christ, 33 River Road, Kingston.

The students, who come from 21 states and three foreign countries, are going from door to door to meet people, to invite them to hear nightly religious talks at the church, and they request an opportunity to talk about Jesus with those who are interested.

Owen D. Olbricht of Syracuse, N.Y., is the students' leader. He holds nightly discussions on religious subjects at 7:30 p.m. at the Princeton Church of Christ.

He has directed students in the campaigns for the past seven years and comments, "These young people have been received and loved by many people. I am always amazed at the willingness of people to talk with them about Jesus and at the impression their excitement and happiness leaves on a community."

Most of the students will not be able to return home at the end of the summer, but will go directly back to college.

BEST HOUSE OF ITS KIND WE'VE SEEN THIS YEAR

A house built to an imaginative owner's specifications offers unbelievable joys to a lucky second owner. They began with the basement, adding extra height and a tile floor plus air conditioning, a humidifier and a 75 gal. hot water heater. Upstairs they added a flagstone entry, a copper roofed bay window... she, a vinyl floored kitchen with Spanish oak formica cabinets, a self-cleaning stove, tubing for an icemaker, luscious shag in the family room. He had his bi-fi wiring built into a closet there. The 5 bedroom 2nd floor was completed with a special enclosed tub in the master bath. Extra insulation in the attic kept their dream house bill for EVERYTHING to $398.01 this year. Then the outside took their attention and the drive was black topped, a gas light erected, a patio poured... And then, Dear Reader, they were transferred. $56,500.

ACREAGE IN THE HEART OF PRINCETON BOROUGH

Surround yourself with trees, grass and history.

There's plenty of all three on what may be the highest spot between New York and Philadelphia.
 Certainly it's one of the most historic, if not the most beautiful. Just 15 homes will be custom built from your plans or ours abutting Greenacres Country Club Golf Course. Each will share in a sweep of common land... and in views and privacy all but vanished these days. Isn't all this worth $50,000 or more?

"It takes a heap o' livin' in a house t' make it home . . ." Edgar Guest knew a lot more about what it takes to make a home than perhaps we'll ever know, but we have some PARTICULAR situations this week that can give you a wonderful start . . .

Four bedrooms, two baths, living room with fireplace and adjoining porch, dining room with built-in cupboard, modern kitchen, bar, and family room. Full basement; centrally air-conditioned. The 2 1/4 acres contain tall trees, campsites, riding trails, pasture, riding ring and small barn for the horses. Also a large, well-maintained pool with full cabana facilities. Located on 3 1/2 acres on the Griggstown Road between Princeton and Belle Mead. Presently used as a two family with an income of $3,600 per yr. and taxes of only $1,500! Opening 2 doors makes it a large gracious home or keeping it "as is" makes it ideal for the man who needs "write-offs"! Each side has living room, dining room, mud room, modern kitchen, two baths . . . one side has 4 bedrooms, the other 3. Fully restored in 1962 so mechanically, it's great. Come see it . . . talk to the tinkeys, ride the horse . . . collect some fresh eggs . . . taste the raspberries . . . you'll want to move right in. $74,500

all cars will be built like the Citroen.

Maybe someday.

Maybe it depends on you.

When you demand a car, for example, that would ride like a Rolls but costs like a Chevy. One that would take curves like a Maserati but seats a five full passengers. A car that would be in every sense a luxury car—yet burns gas like a tiny Volkswagen (27 MPG).

Maybe you could get that kind of car from Detroit if you demanded it. Or you could buy one right now. It's called a Citroen. Just go to your nearest Citroen dealer and test drive it.

Learn how good other cars may someday be; and how someday is today with a Citroen.
